

"THARE IZ NOSURE KURE KNOWN FOR LAZINESS, BUT A SEKIND WIFE HAZ BIN KNOWN TO HURRY IT SUM."—Josh Billings.

ASH" a KAP swim-kaps are the fa flattering in cut—skilful only at Rexall Stores.
ard Co.
PARIS, MAINE
ed eer
N xford, R. F. D. 3 HING ELSE"
kins & Co., clean.
Wear
ker.
hip cord, flannel shorts in cotton, ayon and balbrig.
rs. Let us show er Co.
WILTON artment drated" n with dishes. eds de pan or ecubes re made with dial or models on than ators of re conse of ECIRIC see this display.
tric
ION
City, N. J.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our many friends and relatives for their many kindnesses during the illness and burial of our dear one, also for the beautiful flowers and cards of sympathy.
T. DOUGHTY AND FAMILY
NORWAY, ME.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our friends and relatives for their kind assistance during our days of sorrow. We are deeply indebted to all who have been so kind as to send us words of comfort. The beautiful flowers and cards were greatly appreciated.
W. DONALD MATTHEWSON
MRS. CARLETON BARKER
AND MRS. IREX MARTIN
NORWAY, ME.

BUSINESS SPECIALS
Under this head notices are inserted at 10 cents a line. Seven words to a line.
Orders must be paid for in advance.
NORWAY, ME. 1930.

W. J. McCarthy has been appointed relative of Geo. Quaker.
NORWAY VICINITY
W. J. McCarthy has been appointed relative of Geo. Quaker.
NORWAY VICINITY
W. J. McCarthy has been appointed relative of Geo. Quaker.

Subscription Rates
1 week, 5 cents
2 weeks, 10 cents
4 weeks, 20 cents
1 month, 35 cents
2 months, 65 cents
3 months, 95 cents
6 months, 1.50
1 year, 2.50
Cash in Advance

NUMBER 28. Single Copy 5 Cents. NORWAY, ME. FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1930. VOLUME LXI

Independence Day
Norway celebrated the glorious Fourth
in grand style and let the eagle scream.
There were street decorations, a mile
long parade, horse racing, ball games,
and midway. Crowds filled the streets and automobiles were parked in every nook and corner until a break was made for the fair grounds after the procession.

The Parade
A riot of color and the glitter of tinsel marked the passing of the mile long parade which formed at the head of Main street with the wings resting on Pleasant street.
The long line was led by three horse-
men, Laurence H. Denison, Clifford Stone,
and Jimmy Jordan. Norway-Paris
Band, Allie Cota, leader in a truck band
wagon, circus style, preceded the chemical and pumper of the Norway Fire Department.
The Old Andover-Bryant Post stage
coach, owned and driven by Byron Tuttle
of South Paris, carried a load of passengers. This was a four in hand with horses furnished by L. G. Newcomb and
Harry Millett of Norway.
Arthur Bell played the role of an old
timer on a high wheeled gig, labeled "Old Daudager Days". An ancient chair-
driven by some very old fashioned chairmen followed and behind came Ralph Hussey on a high wheeled bike, fashionable forty odd years ago. By his side
on a boys' modern bicycle, was his young nephew. The comparison was amusing
and quite a novelty for this generation.
A long line of decorated floats and cars
represented Clark's Drug Co., Robert F.
Bickford, gens; the Central Maine
Chemical Co., D. D. Cummings, Sunnyside
Farm; D. M. Goodwin & Son, Poultry
and Dairy Farm; Harry M. Goodwin,
The Red Feather Farm; Norway Farmers'
Union; W. F. Hubbs Co., "Bay of
Brown"; Novelty Turning Co.; Walter
S. Luck; L. M. Longley & Son; Jackson
Greenleaf Co.; Norway Oil Co.; "Pog-
gins"; W. J. White, a research chemist, Mr.
White has accepted an attractive position
in the laboratories of the Dupont Pathe Film Corporation, and will be engaged in working on safety film, color photography.
He will, at the same time, be completing more advanced study in his chosen profession.
Mr. White graduated from Norway
high school in 1923, at the age of 15
years, having attained a very notable record, both scholastically and in extracurricular activities chosen during the same spring as one of the two high school students to represent the State of Maine in the American Youth alliance with the American Chemical Society at the Sequi Centennial International Exposition at Philadelphia.
Entering Bates College with the class of '29, Mr. White was again very successful. For scholastic attainments he received, during his first two years, regular scholarships. He was awarded a number of special scholarships during his Junior and Senior years.
Although primarily interested in science, he found much time for outside activities. For three years he was a member of the varsity debating squad, participating in several intercollegiate debates; among them a debate with the University of Porto Rico—Bates first meeting with the Latin American School.
During the past year he was a member of the squad which won the Eastern Intercollegiate Debating Championship, against the leading university of the east. He was elected to Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity, at the end of his junior year, this being one of the highest honors granted to debaters.
During his Junior year, Mr. White
was also chosen as a delegate from Bates
to the First Maine Intercollegiate Debates Convention at Augusta, Maine.
During the past year, Mr. White has been assistant to the head of the Department of Chemistry. He has been chosen as an Honor Student in this same subject, completing a full year of research work and receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science Candidate, a notable attainment in this work. He has been for two years a member of the Lawrence Chemical Society, which is now attached with the American Chemical Society, and in May, delivered a paper before the Maine Section of this Society
at the invitation of the State Secretary.
Mr. White is a member of the Bates club for four years, member of the College Y. M. C. A., has been judge of intercollegiate debates and prize speaker
in the annual Greek Play presented by the graduating class.
Mr. White is a member of the First Congregational church of Norway, and has taken an active part in church affairs all during his school career, having been elected Sunday School superintendent.
Y. M. C. A. Camps at Winthrop, Maine.
ROY JORDAN'S BUILDINGS
BURNED
Roy Jordan's house and barn, known as the Jackson place on the back road to Norway, opposite Porter Scott's place,
were totally destroyed by fire, Tuesday morning. The garage and large poultry house were saved by members of Norway
fire department, who used the pumper
and chemical truck.
Fire started in the barn and spread rapidly in the high wind. Mr. Jordan, who was alone, saved hardly anything in the building. Loss will be partly covered by insurance. The house contained valuable furniture, dishes and silver, besides many antiques, which can never be replaced.
The department made a quick run
and laid 1700 feet of hose to a brook which was soon pumped dry.
SPECIAL HORSE RACES EXPECTED
Plans are underway for four special horse races at Oxford County fair grounds Saturday afternoon, July 19. According to tentative arrangements four classes
in the trot and pace will include the 2:34, 2:20, 2:16 and 2:13 and many horsemen
have expressed a desire to start one or more trotters and pacers in each event.
Chances are good for large fields and snappy action.
Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Pottle and granddaughter, Wilma Thomas, also Mr.
and Mrs. Norman McDougall of Exeter,
N. H., will resume her summer visit and four passenger sea plane alighted
on the bog near the boat landing by mistake, Sunday. The pilot thought he found the big bog and took the four of the passenger plane and gathered in the explained his misadventure. The plane
took flight to Norway Lake and refueled.
A number of passengers were taken off
during the afternoon.
Miss Jessie Mae Wild of Evanston, Ill.,
who has been visiting her sister, Mrs.
Raymond Morgan, left Friday for York to resume her summer vacation at Columbia University. Mrs. Morgan and son, James, and her mother, Mrs. C. J.
Lukens left Saturday for Flint, Mich.
Wm. Thomas celebrated his 11th birthday on July 4, and the following day he and Mrs. Merton C. Libby, arranged a party for the entertainment of catered under the neighborhood.
Mrs. Thomas and her family were on the lawn and a table holding the large cake and cups of iced and decorated with flags,
was a pretty setting. There were games and races were served. There were
Mrs. Thelma and Natalie Kimball, Res-
tation Green, Florence and Frank Green,
and Dorothy Lake. Wm. Thomas lives
in Exeter, N. H., and was spending a short vacation with her uncle and aunt,
Mr. and Mrs. Merton C. Libby.

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER
(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

Subscription Rates
1 week, 5 cents
2 weeks, 10 cents
4 weeks, 20 cents
1 month, 35 cents
2 months, 65 cents
3 months, 95 cents
6 months, 1.50
1 year, 2.50
Cash in Advance

NUMBER 28. Single Copy 5 Cents. NORWAY, ME. FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1930. VOLUME LXI

Independence Day
Norway celebrated the glorious Fourth
in grand style and let the eagle scream.
There were street decorations, a mile
long parade, horse racing, ball games,
and midway. Crowds filled the streets
and automobiles were parked in every
nook and corner until a break was made
for the fair grounds after the procession.

The Parade
A riot of color and the glitter of tin-
sel marked the passing of the mile long
parade which formed at the head of
Main street with the wings resting on
Pleasant street.
The long line was led by three horse-
men, Laurence H. Denison, Clifford Stone,
and Jimmy Jordan. Norway-Paris
Band, Allie Cota, leader in a truck band
wagon, circus style, preceded the chemical and pumper of the Norway Fire Department.
The Old Andover-Bryant Post stage
coach, owned and driven by Byron Tuttle
of South Paris, carried a load of passengers. This was a four in hand with horses furnished by L. G. Newcomb and
Harry Millett of Norway.
Arthur Bell played the role of an old
timer on a high wheeled gig, labeled "Old Daudager Days". An ancient chair-
driven by some very old fashioned chairmen followed and behind came Ralph
Hussey on a high wheeled bike, fashionable forty odd years ago. By his side
on a boys' modern bicycle, was his young
nephew. The comparison was amusing
and quite a novelty for this generation.
A long line of decorated floats and cars
represented Clark's Drug Co., Robert F.
Bickford, gens; the Central Maine
Chemical Co., D. D. Cummings, Sunnyside
Farm; D. M. Goodwin & Son, Poultry
and Dairy Farm; Harry M. Goodwin,
The Red Feather Farm; Norway Farmers'
Union; W. F. Hubbs Co., "Bay of
Brown"; Novelty Turning Co.; Walter
S. Luck; L. M. Longley & Son; Jackson
Greenleaf Co.; Norway Oil Co.; "Pog-
gins"; W. J. White, a research chemist, Mr.
White has accepted an attractive position
in the laboratories of the Dupont Pathe
Film Corporation, and will be engaged in working on safety film, color photography.
He will, at the same time, be completing more advanced study in his chosen profession.
Mr. White graduated from Norway
high school in 1923, at the age of 15
years, having attained a very notable record, both scholastically and in extracurricular activities chosen during
the same spring as one of the two
high school students to represent the State of Maine in the American Youth
alliance with the American Chemical Society at the Sequi Centennial International Exposition at Philadelphia.
Entering Bates College with the class of '29, Mr. White was again very successful. For scholastic attainments he received, during his first two years, regular scholarships. He was awarded a number of special scholarships during his Junior and Senior years.
Although primarily interested in science, he found much time for outside activities. For three years he was a member of the varsity debating squad,
participating in several intercollegiate
debates; among them a debate with the University of Porto Rico—Bates first meeting with the Latin American School.
During the past year he was a member of the squad which won the Eastern Intercollegiate Debating Championship,
against the leading university of the east. He was elected to Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity, at the end of his junior year, this being one of the highest honors granted
to debaters.
During his Junior year, Mr. White
was also chosen as a delegate from Bates
to the First Maine Intercollegiate Debates Convention at Augusta, Maine.
During the past year, Mr. White has been assistant to the head of the Department of Chemistry. He has been chosen as an Honor Student in this same subject, completing a full year of research work and receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science Candidate, a notable attainment in this work. He has been for two years a member of the Lawrence Chemical Society, which is now attached with the American Chemical Society, and in May, delivered a paper before the Maine Section of this Society
at the invitation of the State Secretary.
Mr. White is a member of the Bates club for four years, member of the College Y. M. C. A., has been judge of intercollegiate debates and prize speaker
in the annual Greek Play presented by
the graduating class.
Mr. White is a member of the First Congregational church of Norway, and has taken an active part in church affairs all during his school career, having been elected Sunday School superintendent.
Y. M. C. A. Camps at Winthrop, Maine.
ROY JORDAN'S BUILDINGS
BURNED
Roy Jordan's house and barn, known as the Jackson place on the back road to Norway, opposite Porter Scott's place,
were totally destroyed by fire, Tuesday
morning. The garage and large poultry
house were saved by members of Norway
fire department, who used the pumper
and chemical truck.
Fire started in the barn and spread rapidly in the high wind. Mr. Jordan,
who was alone, saved hardly anything in the building. Loss will be partly covered by insurance. The house contained valuable furniture, dishes and silver, besides many antiques, which can never be replaced.
The department made a quick run
and laid 1700 feet of hose to a brook which
was soon pumped dry.
SPECIAL HORSE RACES EXPECTED
Plans are underway for four special
horse races at Oxford County fair grounds
Saturday afternoon, July 19. According to tentative arrangements four classes
in the trot and pace will include the 2:34,
2:20, 2:16 and 2:13 and many horsemen
have expressed a desire to start one or more trotters and pacers in each event.
Chances are good for large fields and
snappy action.
Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Pottle and granddaughter, Wilma Thomas, also Mr.
and Mrs. Norman McDougall of Exeter,
N. H., will resume her summer visit
and four passenger sea plane alighted
on the bog near the boat landing by mistake, Sunday. The pilot thought he found the big bog and took the four of the passenger plane and gathered in the explained his misadventure. The plane
took flight to Norway Lake and refueled.
A number of passengers were taken off
during the afternoon.
Miss Jessie Mae Wild of Evanston, Ill.,
who has been visiting her sister, Mrs.
Raymond Morgan, left Friday for
York to resume her summer vacation at Columbia University. Mrs. Morgan and
son, James, and her mother, Mrs. C. J.
Lukens left Saturday for Flint, Mich.
Wm. Thomas celebrated his 11th birthday on July 4, and the following day he and Mrs. Merton C. Libby, arranged a party for the entertainment of catered under the neighborhood.
Mrs. Thomas and her family were on the lawn
and a table holding the large cake and
cups of iced and decorated with flags,
was a pretty setting. There were games
and races were served. There were
Mrs. Thelma and Natalie Kimball, Res-
tation Green, Florence and Frank Green,
and Dorothy Lake. Wm. Thomas lives
in Exeter, N. H., and was spending a short vacation with her uncle and aunt,
Mr. and Mrs. Merton C. Libby.

Subscription Rates
1 week, 5 cents
2 weeks, 10 cents
4 weeks, 20 cents
1 month, 35 cents
2 months, 65 cents
3 months, 95 cents
6 months, 1.50
1 year, 2.50
Cash in Advance

NUMBER 28. Single Copy 5 Cents. NORWAY, ME. FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1930. VOLUME LXI

Independence Day
Norway celebrated the glorious Fourth
in grand style and let the eagle scream.
There were street decorations, a mile
long parade, horse racing, ball games,
and midway. Crowds filled the streets
and automobiles were parked in every
nook and corner until a break was made
for the fair grounds after the procession.

The Parade
A riot of color and the glitter of tin-
sel marked the passing of the mile long
parade which formed at the head of
Main street with the wings resting on
Pleasant street.
The long line was led by three horse-
men, Laurence H. Denison, Clifford Stone,
and Jimmy Jordan. Norway-Paris
Band, Allie Cota, leader in a truck band
wagon, circus style, preceded the chemical and pumper of the Norway Fire Department.
The Old Andover-Bryant Post stage
coach, owned and driven by Byron Tuttle
of South Paris, carried a load of passengers. This was a four in hand with horses furnished by L. G. Newcomb and
Harry Millett of Norway.
Arthur Bell played the role of an old
timer on a high wheeled gig, labeled "Old Daudager Days". An ancient chair-
driven by some very old fashioned chairmen followed and behind came Ralph
Hussey on a high wheeled bike, fashionable forty odd years ago. By his side
on a boys' modern bicycle, was his young
nephew. The comparison was amusing
and quite a novelty for this generation.
A long line of decorated floats and cars
represented Clark's Drug Co., Robert F.
Bickford, gens; the Central Maine
Chemical Co., D. D. Cummings, Sunnyside
Farm; D. M. Goodwin & Son, Poultry
and Dairy Farm; Harry M. Goodwin,
The Red Feather Farm; Norway Farmers'
Union; W. F. Hubbs Co., "Bay of
Brown"; Novelty Turning Co.; Walter
S. Luck; L. M. Longley & Son; Jackson
Greenleaf Co.; Norway Oil Co.; "Pog-
gins"; W. J. White, a research chemist, Mr.
White has accepted an attractive position
in the laboratories of the Dupont Pathe
Film Corporation, and will be engaged in working on safety film, color photography.
He will, at the same time, be completing more advanced study in his chosen profession.
Mr. White graduated from Norway
high school in 1923, at the age of 15
years, having attained a very notable record, both scholastically and in extracurricular activities chosen during
the same spring as one of the two
high school students to represent the State of Maine in the American Youth
alliance with the American Chemical Society at the Sequi Centennial International Exposition at Philadelphia.
Entering Bates College with the class of '29, Mr. White was again very successful. For scholastic attainments he received, during his first two years, regular scholarships. He was awarded a number of special scholarships during his Junior and Senior years.
Although primarily interested in science, he found much time for outside activities. For three years he was a member of the varsity debating squad,
participating in several intercollegiate
debates; among them a debate with the University of Porto Rico—Bates first meeting with the Latin American School.
During the past year he was a member of the squad which won the Eastern Intercollegiate Debating Championship,
against the leading university of the east. He was elected to Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity, at the end of his junior year, this being one of the highest honors granted
to debaters.
During his Junior year, Mr. White
was also chosen as a delegate from Bates
to the First Maine Intercollegiate Debates Convention at Augusta, Maine.
During the past year, Mr. White has been assistant to the head of the Department of Chemistry. He has been chosen as an Honor Student in this same subject, completing a full year of research work and receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science Candidate, a notable attainment in this work. He has been for two years a member of the Lawrence Chemical Society, which is now attached with the American Chemical Society, and in May, delivered a paper before the Maine Section of this Society
at the invitation of the State Secretary.
Mr. White is a member of the Bates club for four years, member of the College Y. M. C. A., has been judge of intercollegiate debates and prize speaker
in the annual Greek Play presented by
the graduating class.
Mr. White is a member of the First Congregational church of Norway, and has taken an active part in church affairs all during his school career, having been elected Sunday School superintendent.
Y. M. C. A. Camps at Winthrop, Maine.
ROY JORDAN'S BUILDINGS
BURNED
Roy Jordan's house and barn, known as the Jackson place on the back road to Norway, opposite Porter Scott's place,
were totally destroyed by fire, Tuesday
morning. The garage and large poultry
house were saved by members of Norway
fire department, who used the pumper
and chemical truck.
Fire started in the barn and spread rapidly in the high wind. Mr. Jordan,
who was alone, saved hardly anything in the building. Loss will be partly covered by insurance. The house contained valuable furniture, dishes and silver, besides many antiques, which can never be replaced.
The department made a quick run
and laid 1700 feet of hose to a brook which
was soon pumped dry.
SPECIAL HORSE RACES EXPECTED
Plans are underway for four special
horse races at Oxford County fair grounds
Saturday afternoon, July 19. According to tentative arrangements four classes
in the trot and pace will include the 2:34,
2:20, 2:16 and 2:13 and many horsemen
have expressed a desire to start one or more trotters and pacers in each event.
Chances are good for large fields and
snappy action.
Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Pottle and granddaughter, Wilma Thomas, also Mr.
and Mrs. Norman McDougall of Exeter,
N. H., will resume her summer visit
and four passenger sea plane alighted
on the bog near the boat landing by mistake, Sunday. The pilot thought he found the big bog and took the four of the passenger plane and gathered in the explained his misadventure. The plane
took flight to Norway Lake and refueled.
A number of passengers were taken off
during the afternoon.
Miss Jessie Mae Wild of Evanston, Ill.,
who has been visiting her sister, Mrs.
Raymond Morgan, left Friday for
York to resume her summer vacation at Columbia University. Mrs. Morgan and
son, James, and her mother, Mrs. C. J.
Lukens left Saturday for Flint, Mich.
Wm. Thomas celebrated his 11th birthday on July 4, and the following day he and Mrs. Merton C. Libby, arranged a party for the entertainment of catered under the neighborhood.
Mrs. Thomas and her family were on the lawn
and a table holding the large cake and
cups of iced and decorated with flags,
was a pretty setting. There were games
and races were served. There were
Mrs. Thelma and Natalie Kimball, Res-
tation Green, Florence and Frank Green,
and Dorothy Lake. Wm. Thomas lives
in Exeter, N. H., and was spending a short vacation with her uncle and aunt,
Mr. and Mrs. Merton C. Libby.

Subscription Rates
1 week, 5 cents
2 weeks, 10 cents
4 weeks, 20 cents
1 month, 35 cents
2 months, 65 cents
3 months, 95 cents
6 months, 1.50
1 year, 2.50
Cash in Advance

NUMBER 28. Single Copy 5 Cents. NORWAY, ME. FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1930. VOLUME LXI

Independence Day
Norway celebrated the glorious Fourth
in grand style and let the eagle scream.
There were street decorations, a mile
long parade, horse racing, ball games,
and midway. Crowds filled the streets
and automobiles were parked in every
nook and corner until a break was made
for the fair grounds after the procession.

The Parade
A riot of color and the glitter of tin-
sel marked the passing of the mile long
parade which formed at the head of
Main street with the wings resting on
Pleasant street.
The long line was led by three horse-
men, Laurence H. Denison, Clifford Stone,
and Jimmy Jordan. Norway-Paris
Band, Allie Cota, leader in a truck band
wagon, circus style, preceded the chemical and pumper of the Norway Fire Department.
The Old Andover-Bryant Post stage
coach, owned and driven by Byron Tuttle
of South Paris, carried a load of passengers. This was a four in hand with horses furnished by L. G. Newcomb and
Harry Millett of Norway.
Arthur Bell played the role of an old
timer on a high wheeled gig, labeled "Old Daudager Days". An ancient chair-
driven by some very old fashioned chairmen followed and behind came Ralph
Hussey on a high wheeled bike, fashionable forty odd years ago. By his side
on a boys' modern bicycle, was his young
nephew. The comparison was amusing
and quite a novelty for this generation.
A long line of decorated floats and cars
represented Clark's Drug Co., Robert F.
Bickford, gens; the Central Maine
Chemical Co., D. D. Cummings, Sunnyside
Farm; D. M. Goodwin & Son, Poultry
and Dairy Farm; Harry M. Goodwin,
The Red Feather Farm; Norway Farmers'
Union; W. F. Hubbs Co., "Bay of
Brown"; Novelty Turning Co.; Walter
S. Luck; L. M. Longley & Son; Jackson
Greenleaf Co.; Norway Oil Co.; "Pog-
gins"; W. J. White, a research chemist, Mr.
White has accepted an attractive position
in the laboratories of the Dupont Pathe
Film Corporation, and will be engaged in working on safety film, color photography.
He will, at the same time, be completing more advanced study in his chosen profession.
Mr. White graduated from Norway
high school in 1923, at the age of 15
years, having attained a very notable record, both scholastically and in extracurricular activities chosen during
the same spring as one of the two
high school students to represent the State of Maine in the American Youth
alliance with the American Chemical Society at the Sequi Centennial International Exposition at Philadelphia.
Entering Bates College with the class of '29, Mr. White was again very successful. For scholastic attainments he received, during his first two years, regular scholarships. He was awarded a number of special scholarships during his Junior and Senior years.
Although primarily interested in science, he found much time for outside activities. For three years he was a member of the varsity debating squad,
participating in several intercollegiate
debates; among them a debate with the University of Porto Rico—Bates first meeting with the Latin American School.
During the past year he was a member of the squad which won the Eastern Intercollegiate Debating Championship,
against the leading university of the east. He was elected to Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity, at the end of his junior year, this being one of the highest honors granted
to debaters.
During his Junior year, Mr. White
was also chosen as a delegate from Bates
to the First Maine Intercollegiate Debates Convention at Augusta, Maine.
During the past year, Mr. White has been assistant to the head of the Department of Chemistry. He has been chosen as an Honor Student in this same subject, completing a full year of research work and receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science Candidate, a notable attainment in this work. He has been for two years a member of the Lawrence Chemical Society, which is now attached with the American Chemical Society, and in May, delivered a paper before the Maine Section of this Society
at the invitation of the State Secretary.
Mr. White is a member of the Bates club for four years, member of the College Y. M. C. A., has been judge of intercollegiate debates and prize speaker
in the annual Greek Play presented by
the graduating class.
Mr. White is a member of the First Congregational church of Norway, and has taken an active part in church affairs all during his school career, having been elected Sunday School superintendent.
Y. M. C. A. Camps at Winthrop, Maine.
ROY JORDAN'S BUILDINGS
BURNED
Roy Jordan's house and barn, known as the Jackson place on the back road to Norway, opposite Porter Scott's place,
were totally destroyed by fire, Tuesday
morning. The garage and large poultry
house were saved by members of Norway
fire department, who used the pumper
and chemical truck.
Fire started in the barn and spread rapidly in the high wind. Mr. Jordan,
who was alone, saved hardly anything in the building. Loss will be partly covered by insurance. The house contained valuable furniture, dishes and silver, besides many antiques, which can never be replaced.
The department made a quick run
and laid 1700 feet of hose to a brook which
was soon pumped dry.
SPECIAL HORSE RACES EXPECTED
Plans are underway for four special
horse races at Oxford County fair grounds
Saturday afternoon, July 19. According to tentative arrangements four classes
in the trot and pace will include the 2:34,
2:20, 2:16 and 2:13 and many horsemen
have expressed a desire to start one or more trotters and pacers in each event.
Chances are good for large fields and
snappy action.
Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Pottle and granddaughter, Wilma Thomas, also Mr.
and Mrs. Norman McDougall of Exeter,
N. H., will resume her summer visit
and four passenger sea plane alighted
on the bog near the boat landing by mistake, Sunday. The pilot thought he found the big bog and took the four of the passenger plane and gathered in the explained his misadventure. The plane
took flight to Norway Lake and refueled.
A number of passengers were taken off
during the afternoon.
Miss Jessie Mae Wild of Evanston, Ill.,
who has been visiting her sister, Mrs.
Raymond Morgan, left Friday for
York to resume her summer vacation at Columbia University. Mrs. Morgan and
son, James, and her mother, Mrs. C. J.
Lukens left Saturday for Flint, Mich.
Wm. Thomas celebrated his 11th birthday on July 4, and the following day he and Mrs. Merton C. Libby, arranged a party for the entertainment of catered under the neighborhood.
Mrs. Thomas and her family were on the lawn
and a table holding the large cake and
cups of iced and decorated with flags,
was a pretty setting. There were games
and races were served. There were
Mrs. Thelma and Natalie Kimball, Res-
tation Green, Florence and Frank Green,
and Dorothy Lake. Wm. Thomas lives
in Exeter, N. H., and was spending a short vacation with her uncle and aunt,
Mr. and Mrs. Merton C. Libby.

Subscription Rates
1 week, 5 cents
2 weeks, 10 cents
4 weeks, 20 cents
1 month, 35 cents
2 months, 65 cents
3 months, 95 cents
6 months, 1.50
1 year, 2.50
Cash in Advance

NUMBER 28. Single Copy 5 Cents. NORWAY, ME. FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1930. VOLUME LXI

Independence Day
Norway celebrated the glorious Fourth
in grand style and let the eagle scream.
There were street decorations, a mile
long parade, horse racing, ball games,
and midway. Crowds filled the streets
and automobiles were parked in every
nook and corner until a break was made
for the fair grounds after the procession.

The Parade
A riot of color and the glitter of tin-
sel marked the passing of the mile long
parade which formed at the head of
Main street with the wings resting on
Pleasant street.
The long line was led by three horse-
men, Laurence H. Denison, Clifford Stone,
and Jimmy Jordan. Norway-Paris
Band, Allie Cota, leader in a truck band
wagon, circus style, preceded the chemical and pumper of the Norway Fire Department.
The Old Andover-Bryant Post stage
coach, owned and driven by Byron Tuttle
of South Paris, carried a load of passengers. This was a four in hand with horses furnished by L. G. Newcomb and
Harry Millett of Norway.
Arthur Bell played the role of an old
timer on a high wheeled gig, labeled "Old Daudager Days". An ancient chair-
driven by some very old fashioned chairmen followed and behind came Ralph
Hussey on a high wheeled bike, fashionable forty odd years ago. By his side
on a boys' modern bicycle, was his young
nephew. The comparison was amusing
and quite a novelty for this generation.
A long line of decorated floats and cars
represented Clark's Drug Co., Robert F.
Bickford, gens; the Central Maine
Chemical Co., D. D. Cummings, Sunnyside
Farm; D. M. Goodwin & Son, Poultry
and Dairy Farm; Harry M. Goodwin,
The Red Feather Farm; Norway Farmers'
Union; W. F. Hubbs Co., "Bay of
Brown"; Novelty Turning Co.; Walter
S. Luck; L. M. Longley & Son; Jackson
Greenleaf Co.; Norway Oil Co.; "Pog-
gins"; W. J. White, a research chemist, Mr.
White has accepted an attractive position
in the laboratories of the Dupont Pathe
Film Corporation, and will be engaged in working on safety film, color photography.
He will, at the same time, be completing more advanced study in his chosen profession.
Mr. White graduated from Norway
high school in 1923, at the age of 15
years, having attained a very notable record, both scholastically and in extracurricular activities chosen during
the same spring as one of the two
high school students to represent the State of Maine in the American Youth
alliance with the American Chemical Society at the Sequi Centennial International Exposition at Philadelphia.
Entering Bates College with the class of '29, Mr. White was again very successful. For scholastic attainments he received, during his first two years, regular scholarships. He was awarded a number of special scholarships during his Junior and Senior years.
Although primarily interested in science, he found much time for outside activities. For three years he was a member of the varsity debating squad,
participating in several intercollegiate
debates; among them a debate with the University of Porto Rico—Bates first meeting with the Latin American School.
During the past year he was a member of the squad which won the Eastern Intercollegiate Debating Championship,
against the leading university of the east. He was elected to Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity, at the end of his junior year, this being one of the highest honors granted
to debaters.
During his Junior year, Mr. White
was also chosen as a delegate from Bates
to the First Maine Intercollegiate Debates Convention at Augusta, Maine.
During the past year, Mr. White has been assistant to the head of the Department of Chemistry. He has been chosen as an Honor Student in this same subject, completing a full year of research work and receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science Candidate, a notable attainment in this work. He has been for two years a member of the Lawrence Chemical Society, which is now attached with the American Chemical Society, and in May, delivered a paper before the Maine Section of this Society
at the invitation of the State Secretary.
Mr. White is a member of the Bates club for four years, member of the College Y. M. C. A., has been judge of intercollegiate debates and prize speaker
in the annual Greek Play presented by
the graduating class.
Mr. White is a member of the First Congregational church of Norway, and has taken an active part in church affairs all during his school career, having been elected Sunday School superintendent.
Y. M. C. A. Camps at Winthrop, Maine.
ROY JORDAN'S BUILDINGS
BURNED
Roy Jordan's house and barn, known as the Jackson place on the back road to Norway, opposite Porter Scott's place,
were totally destroyed by fire, Tuesday
morning. The garage and large poultry house were saved by members of Norway
fire department, who used the pumper
and chemical truck.
Fire started in the barn and spread rapidly in the high wind. Mr. Jordan,
who was alone, saved hardly anything in the building. Loss will be partly covered by insurance. The house contained valuable furniture, dishes and silver, besides many antiques, which can never be replaced.
The department made a quick run
and laid 1700 feet of hose to a brook which
was soon pumped dry.
SPECIAL HORSE RACES EXPECTED
Plans are underway for four special
horse races at Oxford County fair grounds
Saturday afternoon, July 19. According to tentative arrangements four classes
in the trot and pace will include the 2:34,
2:20, 2:16 and 2:13 and many horsemen
have expressed a desire to start one or more trotters and pacers in each event.
Chances are good for large fields and
snappy action.
Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Pottle and granddaughter, Wilma Thomas, also Mr.
and Mrs. Norman McDougall of Exeter,
N. H., will resume her summer visit
and four passenger sea plane alighted
on the bog near the boat landing by mistake, Sunday. The pilot thought he found the big bog and took the four of the passenger plane and gathered in the explained his misadventure. The plane
took flight to Norway Lake and refueled.
A number of passengers were taken off
during the afternoon.
Miss Jessie Mae Wild of Evanston, Ill.,
who has been visiting her sister, Mrs.
Raymond Morgan, left Friday for
York to resume her summer vacation at Columbia University. Mrs. Morgan and
son, James, and her mother, Mrs. C. J.
Lukens left Saturday for Flint, Mich.
Wm. Thomas celebrated his 11th birthday on July 4, and the following day he and Mrs. Merton C. Libby, arranged a party for the entertainment of catered under the neighborhood.
Mrs. Thomas and her family were on the lawn
and a table holding the large cake and
cups of iced and decorated with flags,
was a pretty setting. There were games
and races were served. There were
Mrs. Thelma and Natalie Kimball, Res-
tation Green, Florence and Frank Green,
and Dorothy Lake. Wm. Thomas lives
in Exeter, N. H., and was spending a short vacation with her uncle and aunt,
Mr. and Mrs. Merton C. Libby.

Subscription Rates
1 week, 5 cents
2 weeks, 10 cents
4 weeks, 20 cents
1 month, 35 cents
2 months, 65 cents
3 months, 95 cents
6 months, 1.50
1 year, 2.50
Cash in Advance

NUMBER 28. Single Copy 5 Cents. NORWAY, ME. FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1930. VOLUME LXI

Independence Day
Norway celebrated the glorious Fourth
in grand style and let the eagle scream.
There were street decorations, a mile
long parade, horse racing, ball games,
and midway. Crowds filled the streets
and automobiles were parked in every
nook and corner until a break was made
for the fair grounds after the procession.

The Parade
A riot of color and the glitter of tin-
sel marked the passing of the mile long
parade which formed at the head of
Main street with the wings resting on
Pleasant street.
The long line was led by three horse-
men, Laurence H. Denison, Clifford Stone,
and Jimmy Jordan. Norway-Paris
Band, Allie Cota, leader in a truck band
wagon, circus style, preceded the chemical and pumper of the Norway Fire Department.
The Old Andover-Bryant Post stage
coach, owned and driven by Byron Tuttle
of South Paris, carried a load of passengers. This was a four in hand with horses furnished by L. G. Newcomb and
Harry Millett of Norway.
Arthur Bell played the role of an old
timer on a high wheeled gig, labeled "Old Daudager Days". An ancient chair-
driven by some very old fashioned chairmen followed and behind came Ralph
Hussey on a high wheeled bike, fashionable forty odd years ago. By his side
on a boys' modern bicycle, was his young
nephew. The comparison was amusing
and quite a novelty for this generation.
A long line of decorated floats and cars
represented Clark's Drug Co., Robert F.
Bickford, gens; the Central Maine
Chemical Co., D. D. Cummings, Sunnyside
Farm; D. M. Goodwin & Son, Poultry
and Dairy Farm; Harry M. Goodwin,
The Red Feather Farm; Norway Farmers'
Union; W. F. Hubbs Co., "Bay of
Brown"; Novelty Turning Co.; Walter
S. Luck; L. M. Longley & Son; Jackson
Greenleaf Co.; Norway Oil Co.; "Pog-
gins"; W. J. White, a research chemist, Mr.
White has accepted an attractive position
in the laboratories of the Dupont Pathe
Film Corporation, and will be engaged

BATES—WEST PARIS

Rev. Walter R. Forbes, pastor of the Church of the Holy Trinity, will be visiting West Paris next week to continue the singing of August and next Sunday, July 14th, will be the last Sunday of the season. She will be home on Sunday in September and the singing will be resumed. She goes a week in the year on account of the singing of the church and meetings. Mrs. A. E. Roberts started Monday on a vacation. He will go to Southport, where his married daughter lives, then to his mother's home in England and other places. He will return to his home in West Paris on Monday. Hattie Kane has gone to Portland to work.

WEST PARIS—TRAP CORNER

Mrs. Hattie and Dora Kimball were in West Paris, Thursday. Mrs. Kimball and family and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Henry and family went to their home in West Paris, Monday. Mrs. Mary and Lettie Day have gone to Portland to work, waiting on tables at the summer. Hattie Kane has gone to Portland to work.

BETHEL

Mrs. Wilson Visiting Sister—Guests at Coeledge's—Abbott Returned to Bethel. Mrs. Marion Wilson and two children from Massachusetts are spending July and August with her sister, Mrs. Milo M. Allister. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fane, Mrs. Leslie Whitworth and baby from Berlin, N. H., and Asaph Fane and son from Salem, N. H., spent last Wednesday at Coeledge's and with other relatives in town. Mrs. Bert Sanborn entertained her mother and family from Bangor, recently. Mrs. May Wiley is visiting in town. Frank Abbott, who has been at his home for several weeks on account of illness, has returned to his work at the Bethel Inn Farm.

BETHEL—SONGO ROAD

Mrs. Grace Lyon of Auburn and Mrs. Mildred Lyon were callers at the Hargood farm, the 4th. Mrs. Virginia McMillin is caring for Mrs. Oble Brooks and infant daughter. Mrs. Bessie Sloan spent the week in Lewiston, the guest of her son, R. T. Sloan and family. Oble Brooks of South Portland was a guest at the Hargood farm, the 4th. S. G. Rann and sister, Estella, and Sewall Pingree of Albany, spent the evening of the 4th with Mr. and Mrs. George Hargood and family. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster of Lowell, Mass., were week end guests of her sister, Mrs. Ruth Burgess and family, at Wilbert Baker's. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrill and family were in Andover, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Foster of Lowell, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Savin called on Mrs. George Hargood and family, recently. Rosalie Morrill was the week end guest of Mrs. Jennie Brown and family of Upton. Mildred Bartlett is assisting Mrs. H. R. Bean of Mayville with her work this week. Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Lord of South Paris were recent overnight guests of her sister, Mrs. Harry Savin. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson of Massachusetts were week end guests of Mrs. Robert Clough and family. They went to Hanover, N. H., where he has employment for a while.

NORTH NEWRY

Fred Wright carried Mrs. Hartley Hanson and family to Rumford, just last. Carrie Wright is visiting her brother, George, in South Farmington, Mass. There was a social and singing at Mrs. L. E. Wright's, Wednesday. A pleasant evening was spent. July 3rd, Richard Blake with his Ford touring car, ran into a sedan from Augusta, smashing the Ford beyond repair, throwing Blake about 15 feet. Cut his head, scratched his face, hurt the muscles of his stomach. The accident was down the place formerly known as the Perin place. L. E. Wright is resetting telephone poles on the new state road. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cole were dinner guests of Hartley Hanson, July 4th. Rev. Robert Haldane preached here Sunday, July 7, while Clifford Lums took his place at Errol, N. H. Fred Wright was in Errol, recently. Mrs. Emma, Roger Hanson and John Lums called at Hartley Hanson's, Sunday. Mrs. Richard Blake has been visiting Mrs. King Long.

NORTH WOODSTOCK

Mrs. Carl Divil of Kennebunkport spent Thursday with Mrs. H. C. Cole. Mrs. George Cushman and daughter, Bessie, Mrs. Francis Cole and Elizabeth Cole were in Rumford, Tuesday. Charles Cole and family from Massachusetts are visiting at Francis Cole's for a week. Herman Cole and family and Erna Cushman were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Knight at Strong over the week end. Miss Alice Knight remained to spend two weeks with her grandmother. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lawrence and Oliver Lawrence of Gorham, N. H., called on their niece, Mrs. Ida Jordan, Sunday. Sherman Odway is helping John Henshaw with his haying. Mr. and Mrs. Porter Swan and children were callers at George Abbott's, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weeks of Frye, also Arnold Saturday were at Mose Hardy over Sunday. Louis Odin is working at Mrs. Wiske's at Bryant Pond.

WILSON'S MILLS

Mrs. Hoyt Dead—Fish and Game Meeting—Harris Called to Lewiston. Mrs. Viana Linnell Hoyt passed away, June 17th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. C. Ripley, after a long period of ill health. Mrs. Hoyt was born in 1852, the daughter of Lorenzo and Phoebe Linnell and spent the greater part of her life in this vicinity. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Robert Haldane and Rev. Norman Davis at the Wilson's Mills church. There were many beautiful floral tributes. Mrs. Hoyt is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Eva Ripley of Magalloway and Mrs. Ethel Curtis of Hartford, Conn., and many grandchildren and great grandchildren.

The Oxford County Fish and Game Association held a meeting at the Grange Hall, June 27th. Archie Grover of Augusta, Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner was present, also Robert Seavey of Norway, president of the association and a very successful meeting was enjoyed. Mrs. Lewis Olson and son, Robert, and daughter, Helen, spent a few days with Mrs. Olson's mother, Mrs. Mary Linnell, in Hartford, Conn., recently. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Eastman and Junior of Boston, have been guests at the Aziscope House for two weeks, recently. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hart were called to Lewiston last Thursday by the death of Mrs. Hart's aunt, Mrs. Mamie Bickford.

Rev. Robert Haldane conducted a baptismal service at the Magalloway church, June 28th, when sixteen children and seven adults were baptized. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Eastman and Junior of Boston, have been guests at the Aziscope House for two weeks, recently. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hart were called to Lewiston last Thursday by the death of Mrs. Hart's aunt, Mrs. Mamie Bickford.

WEST GREENWOOD

Willie Haden and his brother were home from Beans Corner, where they are working. Henry (Groteau) from Rumford called on his brother and family. John Deegan has a Buick sedan. Bertie Corner of Albany was a caller in town. Sloan and Mrs. Bennett called on Mrs. Lizzie Rix, who is visiting at Morris Chase's. Met Brown of Bethel was in town, recently. Miss Harrington and two nieces were callers at Mrs. James Croteau's last week. Mrs. Ada Mills of Gorham called on her daughter, Mrs. Paul Croteau, last week.

Mr. Gibbs of Bethel was in this vicinity, recently. Mr. and Mrs. Harrington of Portland have returned to their home in this vicinity. Mr. Main's son of Portland is spending a few days at their camp.

GREENWOOD—TUBBS DISTRICT

Frank, Fred and Ernest Curtis and Clyde Morgan spent 4th of July at Old Orchard. Lloyd Morey, who hurt his knee at the school picnic a few weeks ago, is gaining slowly. Mr. and Mrs. Will Yates and family, Bira Thulow of Norway, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ring and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Colby Ring and family of Bryant Pond enjoyed a trip to Farmington, Fourth of July. Sunday callers at Montie Millett's were Mr. and Mrs. George Jewell, Susie Lovejoy of Rumford, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Millett and family of South Paris and Clyde Morgan and Charlie Martin of Greenwood City. Eliza Morey motored to Rumford with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watkinson, Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis McKee and baby spent Wednesday evening with her mother, Mrs. Montie Millett and Mr. and Mrs. George Jewell and Susie Lovejoy of Rumford went to Lost River, Saturday. Greenwood Millett is spending a few days with Mrs. Montie Millett.

NORTH PARIS—TUELL TOWN

Miss Emily Scott finished working for Mrs. Mordant L. Rowe, Sunday. Miss Edith Bradford was at Rumford Falls, July 4th. A. C. Allen and daughter, Laura, were in Lewiston, Thursday. S. E. Odin has bought the grass on the Mayhew farm. L. J. Trask has bought the grass on the Benson farm. Robert Morgan of Greenwood was at Lester Morgan's, Saturday. Rev. and Mrs. Robert Haldane and son, Robert, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Elwell motored to Lake Trippe, Friday. Visitors at B. F. Elwell's, Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Keene of Oxford. Callers were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thulow and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Thulow and two children of Pigeon Hill. Mrs. Columbia Dunham of West Paris was the guest of Mrs. J. K. Bradford and family one day last week. Visitors at L. E. Morgan's, Friday, were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sturtevant and three children of Streaked Mountain. Supper and evening guests were Rev. and Mrs. Robert Haldane and son of Errol, N. H. Callers during the week and Sunday at M. L. Rowe's were Mrs. Janet Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Silver Rowe from Mechanic Falls, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Rowe, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott, North Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Dickinson, South Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Warren and two children of East Buckfield.

NEWRY

Callers at Powers—Reunion Well Attended. Mr. and Mrs. George Orent of Conway, N. H., and two friends of theirs from Providence, R. I., were Saturday night callers at W. N. Powers', also P. Bennett of Harrison, Mrs. C. D. Bean, Mrs. Homer Smith and children and P. C. Bartlett, all of Bethel. Carl Hakala and family were in Paris on business the last of the week. Mrs. W. H. Bond is in New York for a few days visit. Leona Lagalle and a friend from Denmark were callers last Friday at Walter Powers'. There was a large party at the Thompson reunion held at the Chapman bungalow, last Friday. Mrs. Chapman's two brothers, who are in the navy and on their vacation, were among those present.

BETHEL—GROVER HILL

A. J. Peaslee has his hay harvested and strawberries marketed. Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich and daughter from Portsmouth, N. H., were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Whitman and family, the Fourth of July and the week end. E. C. Jackson has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. N. A. Stearns and family the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Will Mason and son, Delmont, from Allen's, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garber and little daughter, Joyce and Ruth, from Bethel were with Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mills, the Fourth. Marian Waterhouse has been ill with swollen glands of the throat. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Waterhouse, who has been very ill, is slowly improving. Geo. Bennett is working for M. F. Tyler this haying season.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

Miss Mary Hendrickson is attending summer school at Bates. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Woodson and children of Sanguis, Mass., were guests of Mrs. Woodson's parents several days this week. Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes spent Monday with Mrs. Jessie Andrews. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Blodgett of Sanford, Mrs. Rose Brooks and son, Arthur, of South Paris, Helen Furber of Farmington were callers at A. N. Felt's, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jackson of Creswell, Oregon, are stopping at H. M. Andrews'. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Q. Perham went to Mechanic Falls, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Windfall Buck and children, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Harlow camped out at Davis Pond over the 4th of July. A. M. Andrews, Mrs. Caroline Etchier, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andrews and Lionel Etchier took a trip to Anson and Morgan's Camp, the Fourth.

MILTON

Morses Here for 4th—Damage by Lightning—Packard Place Sold. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Morse and children, Harland and Ruth, spent over the Fourth at their place here. Eva Poland is visiting her sister, Mrs. Chas. Stanley in Mexico. Mrs. Mattie George of Kennebunkport is staying at her place here for a while. Lightning entered Mrs. George's place and did lots of damage, also W. S. Millett's place one day last week. It was the worst electric storm here yet this year.

Lawrence Stanley and friend of Mexico are spending the week at his cousin's, Florus Poland's and fishing. Chas. Bunker was a visitor at Chas. Poland's a few days this week. Bertha Packard has sold her place here to E. J. Mann of West Paris. Mrs. Ethel Crockett and two boys of Bethel were at H. S. Billings' and F. W. More's the Fourth. Mr. and Mrs. Williams and children of South Paris spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Morse.

Maine Mineral Store

West Paris, Maine
Stanley I. Perham

Selected Maine Green Tourmalines

"Owned by few—adored by many"

Specializing in procuring the Unusual

NEW PERFECTION OIL STOVE

For Summer Cooking

Ulmer Installment Company

Norway, Maine

"Beautify Your Home"

by Buying a New Piece Each Month at

Huff's Furniture Store

Successor to E. S. Jones

South Paris, Maine

CLARENCE B. HUFF

Funeral Service

Tel. 390-2

Res. 390-3

AMBULANCE

CUT FLOWERS

Gun-Dipping Carried them to VICTORY

Take the judgment of world record makers on the choice of tires!

Firestone

ON EVERY famous race track—in every outstanding endurance run—the patented Gun-Dipping process has played its part in victory. Firestone Gun-Dipped Tires hold all world records for speed, safety, and endurance.

PRICES REDUCED ON ALL SIZES

WASHING, POLISHING AND GREASING SERVICE

All our tires guaranteed against stone bruises and cuts for one year.

Sanborn's Service Station

NORWAY, MAINE

Licensed Auctioneer

ROY O. DRESSER

Telephone 10-13, Harrison
P. O. Address, Harrison, R. F. D. 2, Me.

READ THE INTELLIGENCE COLUMN ON PAGE FOUR

WAS REVELATION TO HER, SHE SAYS

"Sargon rid me of stomach troubles that made my life miserable for 10 years, and I will never forget the day I began taking this"

All Three Crow Products are guaranteed.

For Sale

Farms, Village Property, House Lots, Timber Lots, Cedar Posts and Poles, Hay, Used Auto Parts for your old cars. One model T car, our prices are low. Call at 57 Beal St., or Tel. 337, Norway, Me.

Cushion Sole and Cushion Heel

We have a new line of our well known Davis Shoes for women. They have a cushion sole and heel and are made on a perfect fitting combination last—Very soft kid upper. We have them in straps and ties. They are comfortable and stylish. The price is $4.50. They are better shoes than many that are sold for $5.00 and $5.50.

We make a specialty of these shoes in large sizes and wide widths, for women who are hard to fit and carry all sizes up to 9.

E. N. Swett Shoe Co.

Opera House Block

Phone 38,

NORWAY, MAINE

COOL COMFORT

SMART STYLE

FINE FIT

WONDERFUL WEAR

It's time now to stock up on light weight Underwear.

STRAW HATS

Select your new Summer Straw hat once. You will find excellent selections of the correct 1930 styles.

BATHING SUITS

Don't fail to see our stock of Bathing Suits, especially the new JANTZEN SWIMMING SUIT

Special—Men's and Women's Bathing Suits.

Geo. F. Eastman Co.

MEN'S CLOTHING AND SHOES

South Paris,

Maine

New Prices on Studebaker Cars effective July 10, 1930

Studebaker Six

114-inch wheelbase
70 horsepower

TO $995 AT THE FACTORY
[4 door Sedan $895]

The Studebaker Six was introduced on May 10, and this reduction in price is not made in anticipation of any model changes. It is in appreciation of volume attained by the most powerful car ever sold at such a low price.

STUDEBAKER SIX

Models and Prices

Sedan, 4-door Three Window. $895
Regal Sedan, 4-door (6 wire wheels) 995
Club Sedan 845
Landau Sedan, 4-door (6 wire wheels) 995
Coupe, for 4 895
Coupe, for 2 845
Tourer 895
Regal Tourer (6 wire wheels) 995
Roadster, for 4 795

Prices on Studebaker Eights, effective July 10

THE PRESIDENT EIGHT

136" wheelbase
Tourer, for 7 $1850
Sedan 1850
State Victoria, for 5* 2350
State Brougham, for 5 2350
Sedan, for 7 2150
State Sedan, for 7* 2350

130" wheelbase

State Roadster, for 4* 1950
Sedan 1850
State Sedan, for 4* 2050
Coupe, for 2 1850
State Coupe, for 4* 2050

THE COMMANDER EIGHT

124" wheelbase
Coupe, for 4 $1585
Victoria 1585
Regal Brougham 1785
Sedan 1585
Regal Sedan* 1785

THE DICTATOR EIGHT

115" wheelbase
Coupe, for 2 $1255
Coupe, for 4 1315
Club Sedan 1195
Sedan 1295
Regal Sedan* 1415
Regal Brougham* 1415

All prices at the factory

* Six wire wheels and trunk rack standard.
 Six wire wheels, trunk and suit case standard.
* Six wire wheels and trunk standard.

More big news from STUDEBAKER
on Page 7 Read it!

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Mrs. Dorothy Pinder, typewriter operator in this office, is taking two weeks vacation. Much of the time will be devoted to housework and other duties at her home in Oxford County, where she is spending a busy life in a quiet office.

In this issue calls attention to the fact that the Ethel May Shorey Association Hall, South Paris, Maine, will be closed for the summer of 1930, July 11. The company is well known throughout Oxford County, where it has been given to crowded rooms for many years.

Miss Edith, who frequently calls at the Advertiser office, had a night spent at her fish-baiting factory in Minot, recently. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Edith, who left many tracks in the department. Valuable gold, silver and platinum objects in the collection of fishing tackle were not damaged.

Mr. Edwards of Casco was in town to transact business and seek a sudden shower. He is a well-known figure in the community. Mr. Edwards compared the present situation with the situation five years ago, when the price of fish was less than $4 per barrel.

Mrs. Wallace W. Jones and her family, of North Waterford, made a trip to the Advertiser office on Saturday afternoon and called to see the editor. They were accompanied by their children, who were very much interested in the work of the office.

Mr. Edwards of Casco was in town to transact business and seek a sudden shower. He is a well-known figure in the community. Mr. Edwards compared the present situation with the situation five years ago, when the price of fish was less than $4 per barrel.

Mrs. Wallace W. Jones and her family, of North Waterford, made a trip to the Advertiser office on Saturday afternoon and called to see the editor. They were accompanied by their children, who were very much interested in the work of the office.

Mr. Edwards of Casco was in town to transact business and seek a sudden shower. He is a well-known figure in the community. Mr. Edwards compared the present situation with the situation five years ago, when the price of fish was less than $4 per barrel.

Mrs. Wallace W. Jones and her family, of North Waterford, made a trip to the Advertiser office on Saturday afternoon and called to see the editor. They were accompanied by their children, who were very much interested in the work of the office.

Mr. Edwards of Casco was in town to transact business and seek a sudden shower. He is a well-known figure in the community. Mr. Edwards compared the present situation with the situation five years ago, when the price of fish was less than $4 per barrel.

Mrs. Wallace W. Jones and her family, of North Waterford, made a trip to the Advertiser office on Saturday afternoon and called to see the editor. They were accompanied by their children, who were very much interested in the work of the office.

Mr. Edwards of Casco was in town to transact business and seek a sudden shower. He is a well-known figure in the community. Mr. Edwards compared the present situation with the situation five years ago, when the price of fish was less than $4 per barrel.

Mrs. Wallace W. Jones and her family, of North Waterford, made a trip to the Advertiser office on Saturday afternoon and called to see the editor. They were accompanied by their children, who were very much interested in the work of the office.

Mr. Edwards of Casco was in town to transact business and seek a sudden shower. He is a well-known figure in the community. Mr. Edwards compared the present situation with the situation five years ago, when the price of fish was less than $4 per barrel.

Mrs. Wallace W. Jones and her family, of North Waterford, made a trip to the Advertiser office on Saturday afternoon and called to see the editor. They were accompanied by their children, who were very much interested in the work of the office.

Mr. Edwards of Casco was in town to transact business and seek a sudden shower. He is a well-known figure in the community. Mr. Edwards compared the present situation with the situation five years ago, when the price of fish was less than $4 per barrel.

Mrs. Wallace W. Jones and her family, of North Waterford, made a trip to the Advertiser office on Saturday afternoon and called to see the editor. They were accompanied by their children, who were very much interested in the work of the office.

Mr. Edwards of Casco was in town to transact business and seek a sudden shower. He is a well-known figure in the community. Mr. Edwards compared the present situation with the situation five years ago, when the price of fish was less than $4 per barrel.

Mrs. Wallace W. Jones and her family, of North Waterford, made a trip to the Advertiser office on Saturday afternoon and called to see the editor. They were accompanied by their children, who were very much interested in the work of the office.

Mr. Edwards of Casco was in town to transact business and seek a sudden shower. He is a well-known figure in the community. Mr. Edwards compared the present situation with the situation five years ago, when the price of fish was less than $4 per barrel.

Mrs. Wallace W. Jones and her family, of North Waterford, made a trip to the Advertiser office on Saturday afternoon and called to see the editor. They were accompanied by their children, who were very much interested in the work of the office.

Mr. Edwards of Casco was in town to transact business and seek a sudden shower. He is a well-known figure in the community. Mr. Edwards compared the present situation with the situation five years ago, when the price of fish was less than $4 per barrel.

Mrs. Wallace W. Jones and her family, of North Waterford, made a trip to the Advertiser office on Saturday afternoon and called to see the editor. They were accompanied by their children, who were very much interested in the work of the office.

NATIONAL CANNING CONTEST

Six hundred dollars for a quart jar of canned food. Can one jar of food be worth that? This is a question that is being asked by the National Canning Contest, which is being held at Shenandoah, Iowa, under the auspices of the Household Science Club. The contest seeks to further the work of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the home demonstration agents throughout the country by focusing the attention of American housewives on the economy and healthfulness of home canned foods.

First prize winner in the National Canning Contest last year was Mrs. Mary Evans, Kenosha, Wisconsin, farm woman, whose entry of a quart jar of green peas was chosen as the best entered by the girls and women from all sections of the United States.

The holding of the contest in Iowa this year is due to the influence of Henry Field, Shenandoah farmer, merchant and banker, who is one of the most prominent of the romances of American life. Imbued with the spirit of thrift, he readily agreed to serve as president and to oversee the numerous details connected with a project of such size and scope.

Four hundred and seventy prizes, totaling $4,250 in cash, loving cups and ribbons, will be distributed to the winners in the contest, which comprises three major divisions: fruits, vegetables and meats. The best entry in each division will be awarded $100. One of these will also receive the five hundred dollar sweepstakes prize. Second prize in each division will be $50, the third prize $25, and the fourth prize $10. The winners will also receive a loving cup and ribbon.

There will also be 30 prizes of five dollars each, 75 prizes of $2.50 each and 200 prizes of one dollar each. In addition, five hundred dollars in cash will be awarded to the home demonstration agent, whose county sends in the largest number of entries, $250 to the agent whose county sends in the next largest number, and $100 to the agent of the county sending in the third largest number.

The contest is open to every woman and girl in the United States. There are no restrictions as to the nature of the food sent. Contestants may enter one, two or all three divisions. Entries should be sent in as early as possible after the opening of the contest, which will be on October 1.

Fruit and vegetable entries in the contest will be judged for cleanliness, color, neatness, flavor and texture. The meat entries will be judged on meatiness, texture and flavor. Judges, each one is a recognized food authority.

Contestants are free to use any method of canning they prefer, according to the instructions of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, especially in the canning of meat, since this method not only saves time and fuel and assures absolute sterility, but also preserves the natural flavor and texture which, of course, are important considerations in contest judging.

That the judging may be thoroughly impartial and the display of jars absolutely uniform, contestants are required to submit their entries in standard glass jars of the quart size. A sample Ball mason jar can be obtained together with prize entry labels for use in sending entries may be had without cost by writing the National Canning Contest, Shenandoah, Iowa.

GIVEN SHOWER

A surprise shower given Miss Elizabeth Hall, recently in honor of her approaching marriage to Carroll Pierce of Auburn, Mass. Miss Hall was invited to the home of Mrs. Edward L. Burnett to see some of the furniture on hand for the wedding. Mrs. Burnett working the lawn mower and she stopped on the lawn to help him. She was finally induced to go inside and she started through the hall, the light in the living room was turned on and she found the room filled with friends and then she realized there was something more than "plants" on the program.

After a few preliminaries the Victrola was tuned in for Lohengrin's wedding march, and two little tots, Peggy Fottell and I. Person Lane, came down the stairs, carrying with them a flower basket, tied with gold ribbon and carrying a package. They delivered this to Miss Hall, with instructions to follow the ribbon and this led to a closet in which she found a large basket completely filled with packages, wrapped in white and tied with yellow ribbon. It was a miscellaneous shower and Miss Hall received many beautiful gifts.

In the evening refreshments were served in the dining room, the table was set with five tables in play. The hostesses were Mrs. Burnett, Miss Marion L. Downing and Mrs. Francis Chick. The most and the profusion of garden flowers about the rooms, which were much admired. Those in the gathering were Mrs. Florence Bradbury, Mrs. Virginia Lane, Mrs. Blanche Smith, Mrs. Grace Brown, Mrs. Iona McCarthy, Mrs. Mary Jones, Mrs. Elizabeth Cummings, Mrs. E. A. Swift, Miss Alice Bartlett, Mrs. Ruth Weston, Mrs. E. H. Macdonald, Mrs. E. H. Macdonald, Mrs. Charlotte Moore, Miss Marion Haskell, Mrs. Fanny Clark, Mrs. Laurence Knight of West Paris, Mrs. Sarah H. Mason of South Paris, the guest of honor and the three hostesses, Mrs. Marion Jellerson, Miss Madelyn Hayden, Mrs. Ruth Acker Woodman and Mrs. Edith Easton were unable to be present.

Miss Eleanor Horn of Cambridge, Mass., is spending a ten days vacation with Mrs. Alfred Dyer. A break blaze in a rubbish pile in Mason Kilgore's shed, Tuesday morning was handled on a still alarm by the motor chemical. At the time of the call the Jordan house fire some three miles away. The damage at the Kilgore place was slight.

The committee representing the Congregational, Methodist and Universalist Sunday schools met some time ago and tried to arrange for a Community Day Vacation School. The committee was unable to secure a director and was obliged to give up plans for a community school this season.

The Daughters of Veterans will meet Friday evening at 7:00 o'clock in regular session and following the business meeting the annual roll call will be observed, during a social hour to which served, during the evening their husbands and members of their families. Refreshments will be served. Every member is asked to have something for the roll call response.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Buswell of Pittsfield, N. H., were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Porter last Sunday for two weeks vacation, going to South Freeport, where she spent the night with her sister and husband, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Lombard and they were to leave Monday morning for an automobile trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Lombard's daughter, Mrs. Frank McGinley will accompany them, as she is spending the summer at their cottage at South Freeport, while Mr. McGinley is at Belgrade Lakes, as counselor at one of the boys' camps.

Independence Day (Continued from page 1)

GAL TWO—Independence Day... A feature between the heats was the trick pony, owned by Mrs. Leontine Stiles of Oxford and loaned to the American Legion for this occasion. The handsome mount was shown by the trainer, Jimmy Jordan and show ring stunts were put on. The old stage coach operated between Bryant Pond and Andover for twenty-three years, and connecting the Grand Trunk with the lake region, was given an exhibition mile, after a formal introduction under the wire. During the years that the Tuttle Brothers carried on the route, three complete sets of iron tires were worn out and a score of horses gave up the lives to the strain of daily trips. Byron Tuttle, who owns the coach, drove two pairs furnished by Harry Millett and L. G. Newcomb of Norway.

The attendance, 2,000, with some 500 automobiles within the grounds. Fully as many were parked outside the enclosure. No great amount of money was cleared by the American Legion and Norway Athletic Club, but they have the satisfaction of getting Norway on the map after years of Quaker meeting Fourth's. Possibly another celebration may be attempted next year, provided shows are not too thick in this locality.

THE STAR CAPELLA

(Meaning in Latin, "little she-goat")

Capella in Auriga is a slightly yellow star. It is 44 degrees from the pole star and in its progress across the heavens is nearly overhead in February. It is 52 light years away. It rises late in the fall, in the east and early in the evening. A fourth magnitude companion accompanies it as they revolve around their common center in 104 days.

Capella is the fourth brightest star, being exceeded only in their order by Sirius, Canopus and Vega. In 1920-1 the new instrument for measurement called the interferometer, invented by Michelson, detected the fact that the distance between the centers of this bright star and its mate to be 79 million of miles.

The use of the spectroscopic talk in Capella and its companion to have induced themselves in a surprising story: the diameter of Capella is estimated at nearly 12 million of miles while its companion is over 6 million of miles. This makes these two stars giant stars, while the sun is classed as a dwarf star.

The surprising information furnished by the spectroscopic is of the low density of Capella, one four hundredth that of water, one six hundredth that of the sun and less than twice that of air at sea level. (Edgington) "The mean density of Capella is nearly the same density of air, for example, if you were inside Capella you would not notice the material of Capella any more than you would notice the air in this room."

Why then, do we behold such a brilliant star of such rarity, for it is a dazzling object in a large telescope? The answer is, it is so tremendous in size. Astronomers tell us that the sun as seen from Capella would be an insignificant star, barely visible to the naked eye, while no observation of which we can conceive would reveal the presence of the earth.

A wide gulf of compactness separates the star Capella and its low density mate, that of the companion of the brightest star, Sirius, that white dwarf (of which only 3 or 4 are known) whose density is reported to be fifty thousand times that of water and of which a cubic inch of its compact material weighs half a ton.

It is a rare sight to view Capella when rising out of the earth's atmosphere from the horizon, in the east, with a large reflecting telescope, with the eyepiece thrown out of focus. Such a riot of flashing, blinding colors, pure and intense, and racing each other over the field of the eyepiece, like the iridescent sparkle of the diamond only amplified and intensified, is a sight to be remembered. In action of slow motion. Binoculars of ten power show well this effect, but mirrors of 7 inch aperture or larger are more effective because of their great light gathering power.

Dr. and Mrs. Thelmer Jason and daughter are stopping at the Jones cottage at Lake Keewauwen at East Sigmund. The ladies of the Norway Farm Bureau will hold their July meeting, Tuesday, July 15, at the Norway Grange Hall. The work will include chair seating. There will be a picnic dinner at noon. Each one will carry sandwiches and a pie or cake and the dishes they need.

Howard Otis DeCoster has accepted an appointment as Second Lieutenant in the Infantry Reserve Corps, the War Department announces. One other Oxford County boy to accept a similar appointment is John Henry Swett of Andover.

Mrs. V. W. Hills went to Whitingville, Mass., Sunday, with her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Brown. Another party of four, consisting of Mrs. Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Brenton Benner, another nephew, Leon Benner of Waldoboro and Mrs. W. P. Collier of Chicago.

The Dennis Pike Real Estate Agency has negotiated the sale of the Clifford farm, originally known, situated in Millettville, Norway, Maine, from Albert J. Stearns of Norway to Clarence H. and Georgianna Berry of Phillipston, Mass. Purchasers will take possession in the latter part of August.

I. W. Waite, a guide at Middle Dam, was home, Wednesday, for the day. He is a guest of his cousin, Mrs. M. W. Sampson, Bridge street.

Margaret Anderson has gone to Poland Spring for the summer. She is working for Mrs. James Betsy.

Frank J. Russell, who has been visiting at Hanover, Upton and Errol, N. H., for ten days, returned home, Sunday.

Some fifteen boys and girls are attending Miss Alice Bartlett's kindergarten, which is being held at the Congregational church.

Mrs. Victorine Blanchard, after spending three weeks at her home, here, went to her summer home at Andover, Tuesday.

Mrs. Marita Cushman Kneeland and friends from Providence, R. I., spent the holiday and week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Cushman.

Mr. and Mrs. Lytton Staples and two nieces and Mrs. Staples' sister of Biddeford, were in town, Monday, to call on Mrs. Laura Edwards. They are stopping at their cottage in Waterford.

Miss Josephine Chase commenced Monday as play leader and supervisor at the Briggs Community Play ground in South Paris. A program of games is provided every day except Sunday for children graded in the primary, intermediate and junior departments.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Canwell have returned home, accompanied by Mrs. Canwell's mother, Mrs. Lizzie Robbins, who has had a shock and is confined to her bed. Mr. Canwell, while in Portland, had a catarrh removed very successfully and can see quite a little.

There will be an auction at the residence of the late Dana M. Stuart, Harrison, Friday, July 25. A large quantity of household goods and farming tools will be sold. See ad. in this issue.

NORTH NORWAY

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Morse motored to Dover, N. H., Sunday, with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Morse. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Haskell were in Auburn, Sunday.

Albert Hobbs and family, also his mother, Mrs. Julia Hobbs, all of Portland, spent the week end at their old home, here.

Franklin Morse and sister, Miss Edith Morse, and Miss Ethel Panso of Richmond, N. H., were guests at their uncle's, C. D. Morse's, a few hours, Sunday. Mr. Morse and Miss Panso returned home, Sunday night, but Miss Edith stayed for a longer visit. They made the trip from Richmond to Norway, Saturday night, arriving in Norway village in the early morning hours. Not finding many people stirring so early, they were obliged to wait some time before they could obtain directions to the home of their uncle in North Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Heath and son, Cecil, spent a part of the day, July 4th, at Tripp Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Haskell were in Rumford one day, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Heath and son, Cecil, and Mrs. A. D. Morse and family were among those from this place who took in the parade, Fourth of July morning at the village.

Harold Heath has finished work for Guy Curtis at Noble's Corner and is now working for Will Delano.

Charles Foster is helping C. D. Morse with his hoeing.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Heath and son, Cecil, visited Mr. Heath's grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Heath, at Timothy Heath's, Sunday. They found her very well for a lady of her advanced years.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Merrill of Pikes Hill were callers at H. C. Heath's, Sunday evening.

C. D. Morse is painting his dwelling house. He has also made other improvements on his buildings, having moved the building formerly used as a store to one side and erected a new store in its place. He has the new store pretty well stocked with canned goods and groceries and several neighborhood around find it a great convenience to be able to obtain these articles so handy in time of need.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swan and children and Mrs. Fred Pierce were some of the guests during the day, Sunday, at C. D. Morse's.

Mrs. Anna Morse and daughter, Ruth, spent Saturday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Morse.

NORWAY-FROST HILL

Miss Bertha Lapham spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Della Morse. Harvey and Richmond Frost and Miss Bertha Lapham, Mrs. Della Morse and sons, Francis and Earl and Miss Mildred Allen, visited friends in North Paris, Thursday, the 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Dudley and Hazel Cole and daughter, Joyce, all of Bryant, were Sunday callers at David Frost's.

Fred Frost called at David Frost's, July 4th.

Harvey Frost and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kesteven of Norway visited relatives at Dixfield, Sunday, June 29th.

Walter Niemi was a Sunday caller at David Frost's.

Richmond Frost spent the week end with his brother, Ossie Ballard, at South Paris.

Miss Leona McAllister and sister, Phyllis, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Della Morse.

Richmond Frost, Mr. and Mrs. Ossie Ballard and son, Vernon, took a trip to Freeport last Sunday.

NORWAY—NOBLE'S CORNER

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Austin are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, in the morning, and baby are being cared for by Mrs. Austin's mother, Mrs. C. B. Whitman. Mrs. Ralph Austin is assisting with the nursing of the baby.

Maudie Bennett, who works in Norway, spent the holiday and week end at her home, here.

Wayland Upton, with team, has been moving for Guy Curtis. Henry White and Chester Austin are also helping Mr. Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tyner and family, Miss Maudie Wyman, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wyman spent the 4th and week end at A. L. Wyman's.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herrick entered the day, July 15, at the Norway Grange Hall. The work will include chair seating. There will be a picnic dinner at noon. Each one will carry sandwiches and a pie or cake and the dishes they need.

WATERFORD

Miss Luella B. Brown of Brooklyn, N. Y., is at Addison Millett's for the summer; also Mrs. Nancy Plais, of West Roxbury, Mass., was there the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Foster attended the fire works at Brighton, July 4th, with Mrs. Isabelle White for the day.

Ellis Koon of North Waterford, who is at her home here for the summer, spent the day, Wednesday, in Norway, with her sister, Mrs. George Greenleaf and family.

Betty Millett was at home Sunday from her work at Camp Ha-Wa-Ya Harrison.

George Rice and son, Charles, hood for Arthur Millett, Wednesday.

Sylvia Millett has returned to her work at Nellie Stone's for the summer, after having the week of July 4th at home.

Howard Millett and Harold Maxfield played ball at North Waterford, July 6th. The men over thirty were beaten by the men under thirty.

DENMARK

Mrs. Ralph Wentworth and two sons are visiting with Mrs. George Wentworth.

The well known NATURE CURE INSTITUTE at Farrington's on the beautiful Lake Kezar, CENTER LOVELL, has been opened again a few days ago, since the able practitioners, MAX A. VOGEL, N. D. (NATUROPATH) and his wife have returned for the season.

Many cases had been treated at this Institute with excellent results during the previous years.

MAX A. VOGEL, N. D., formerly in charge of the famous "YOUNGBOON SANATORIUM" in Florida, applies GENTLE CURE SYSTEMS, KNEIPP CURES and OTHER NATURAL HEALING METHODS for the treatment of ALL ACUTE and CHRONIC AFFECTIONS.

28-31

A Very Desirable Norway Home at $4,300

If any prospective buyer is in doubt about the new acquisition we are here offering—just come forward and look over this fine home that is beautifully located—handy to church, school, business section, cement highway and best of neighbors. Two family dwelling, bath, lavatory, flush, city water, electric lights. Nice summer kitchen, large basement entire dwelling, also stable connecting with dwelling for two automobiles. Large garden plot. Come in or write us if you want to live in Norway.

The Dennis Pike Real Estate Agency

NORWAY, ME.

ATHERTON'S

Branch Store, 110 Main Street, Norway

30th Annual July CLEARANCE

Dependable Furniture at

GREATEST SAVINGS OF THE YEAR

Convenient terms may be arranged. No interest charge. Free insurance. Free transportation.

SEE ME FIRST FOR: Electric Pumps, Heating Appliances, Hay Hoists, Ventilation, Farm Motors, Electric Plants, Grinders, Farm Lighting, And Any Individual Electric Problem, Welsbach Refrigeration, Savage Washers, Sweep-Vac Cleaners, LINWOOD E. FOGG, Electrical Contractor and Dealer, SOUTH PARIS, MAINE

The Merchant Store

Dry Goods and Apparel for Women, Misses, Children and Infants' Wear

Our July Clearance Sale Now in Full Swing

Plan to come and take advantage of the many savings in all departments.

This occasion affords you an opportunity of selecting merchandise of our standard good qualities at saving prices, saving in some instances as high as 50 per cent. or more.

Summer Coats

For women, misses and children at just a little more than half price, on some of them not more than half price is asked.

Silk Dresses

A good number of the silk dresses at less than regular value. See rack of odd dresses, as are, at half and less than half to clean up.

Hosiery

We cannot too strongly recommend this line of merchandise in the following good makes of women's silk stockings, Dexdale, Gordon, Munsingwear, No Mend, Vanity Fair, etc. Special full fashion Munsingwear stockings at $1.00, No Mend and Vanity Fair only $1.35.

Men's Half Hose

to close out at following prices: 25c quality, 3 pair for 50c; 50c quality, 3 pair for $1.00; small lot left of the 15c ones for 10c pair.

Piece Goods Department

now offers many saving opportunities on wanted, reasonable materials and the savings in some instances are half the regular value. If you cannot visit the store send for samples that will be promptly and cheerfully sent to you.

Cheney Silks

Small lot plain and figured Cheney silks at only half the regular fair price.

We mention only a few of the very many shopping advantages this big stock of Dry Goods and Wearing Apparel offers you. Come and save.

One Price Cash Store

NORWAY,

MAINE

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER
OXFORD COUNTY, ME.
Entered at the Norway Post Office as Second Class Matter.
Subscription rates $2.00 in advance. Single copies 5 cents. All notices free. Birth, marriages and death notices free. All notices and advertisements must be paid for at 10 cents per line, except when advertising for the first time, when the price is 5 cents per line. This price is for the first insertion and 25 cents per line thereafter.
A charge is made for publishing list of names and addresses of persons who have been married, divorced, or who have been in the military service, and for other notices of this kind. The price is $1.50 for a card of thanks, $1.00 for a card of condolence, and 50 cents for a card of notice.
A charge is made for publishing list of names and addresses of persons who have been married, divorced, or who have been in the military service, and for other notices of this kind. The price is $1.50 for a card of thanks, $1.00 for a card of condolence, and 50 cents for a card of notice.

NORWAY VICINITY

Miss Thelma Bradbury, who is training for a nurse at the Bye and Ear Infirmary in Portland, is having three weeks vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bradbury.
Miss Elsie A. Farrow of the Oxford Democrat force in South Paris is taking her vacation of two weeks. She is with Miss Emma J. Smith in a cottage on the lake shore.

HARRISON

Campers Drowned—Received Prize—
Guests in Town

On Sunday afternoon at Camp Zakelo on Long Lake, Al Lassman of Brighton, Mass., a counselor at the camp met death by drowning near the camp. Mr. Lassman was a counselor here two years ago and had many friends about town. The body was recovered Sunday about midnight.

Miss Mildred J. Holmes, Supt. of Nurses at Newport, N. H. Hospital, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall H. Pitts. Mrs. Pitts accompanied Miss Holmes to Norway for the week end.

Mrs. Mary Gray recently visited several days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. L. Walker at their farm.
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Freeman and son, Donald, and daughter, Janice, of Hallowell, Mass., were guests last week of his brother, F. Perley Freeman and family on Hillside Avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter and three children of Gardiner, Mass., spent the week end at their home on Front street. The doctor returned Sunday, but Mrs. Hunter and children will stay for a few weeks.

Stanley Freeman received the prize in his class in Calvary Community Sunday school for perfect attendance and the teacher, Junior Freeman, presented him with an airplane model. This was made by Junior Freeman and is a splendid model, weighing only 1 3/4 oz. and will fly over the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Grover have an apartment in Portland and Mr. Grover is employed by Leonard Pitts driving mail and express.
Mrs. E. P. Stearns recently entertained the Larkin Club in the sun parlor of Mrs. W. P. Smith's house on Smith street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lamb spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whitney at their camp on Crystal Lake.
Mrs. John Keene is assisting at Jackson House on South street, conducted by Mrs. Edward Jackson.

William Fagan of Portland has been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Abbie Purinton on Front street.
Arline and Gertrude Harmon are spending the week at Hiram's Beach, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Arrington of Portland at their cottage.

Miss Alice Baker of Bridgton is working for Mrs. Minnie Purcell on Winslow street. Mrs. Purcell is improving slowly in health.
Misses Marcia Hill and Ruth Rochette of Worcester, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Weaver at the Farm.

Junior Freeman has returned from the Y. M. C. A. camp at Lake Umbagog in Winthrop.
Louise Boyker of Poland is assisting Mrs. W. W. Haygood at the Bottle and Fried Cram House on Waterford road.

Mrs. Annie Quint is spending a few weeks with her daughter at North Windham. She will return soon to her home at Mrs. E. P. Stearns' in Stearns block.

SOUTH HARRISON

Clyde Andrews spent the Fourth in Houlton with his wife and son, who have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Carsey, they expect to be here two weeks.
Mrs. Murray Crossman is working at Camp Newfound.

Many from here attended the fire works at Bridgton, July 4th.
Mr. and Mrs. Bob LaValle of Rhode Island spent the Fourth and week end at their cottage near Cape Monday.

Robert Clute of Norway spent a few days the past week with his grandparents at Scribner's Mills.
Arvis Merrow visited at Scribner's Mills last week at Edward Scribner's.

Zeriah Merrow was at home the Fourth and over the week end, returning to Portland, Sunday night.
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Scribner spent the Fourth in Hiram with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Rankin.

Mrs. Ralph Foster and three children of Loomis, Mass., are visiting a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Buck.
Sunday guests at A. C. Buck's were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Green of Buxton, Mrs. E. A. Wright of Buxton Mills and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Boardman, also Miss Mary Buck who started back to Boston, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Burns spent the evening recently with her mother, Mrs. Geneva Jordan.
On Saturday of last week Mrs. Leland Buck and children, also Mrs. Lizzie Russell enjoyed a picnic lunch at Buxton.

Many from here attended the Trumhull play, "Thank You", at Harrison Grange Hall, Saturday night, July 5.
SWEDEN—BLACK MOUNTAIN
Mrs. Laneus Bowley and her daughter, Marguerite, called on Mrs. Harry Moore, one day, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore called on Mr. and Mrs. Laneus Bowley, recently.

SUMNER

How in heck do the old folks know when it ain't goin' to rain no more? We have had only five or six days here out of six weeks that it did not rain from at least one-half hour to a full day pouring rain, with no signs of anything different in sight.

The hay crop looks good here. Apples also look well, and plenty of feed in pastures and nearly every one is raising from one to a half dozen calves.
Joseph Bosse took one of his horses from his back pasture last Thursday and his teamster drove it home in a light carriage, this being the only horse driven over the green road in a buggy so far this summer.

Thursday morning at ten o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Maycomber of Newton, Mass., drove in at her sister's place, Mrs. Emerson Bartlett's to stop over the Fourth, Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Maycomber, Mrs. Bartlett, Lionel, Grace and Gertrude Bartlett went to South Paris to look at the much talked of fire works, all went in the Maycomber car. It is said there were about a dozen other cars went the same route from Sumner.

A part of Donald Varney's trucks were hauling pulp from the green woods lot to East Sumner last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell, Mrs. York and Emerson, Robert and George Russell called on Mrs. Russell's mother, Mrs. Emerson Bartlett, July 4th.

Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Maycomber and Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Bartlett went for a ride in the big Daniels car, going through East Sumner, Hartford, Peru to Dixfield, where we called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanley and Wilder Chase, and then drove to Joseph Edmonds' place, where his daughter told them that her father had gone fishing. Mr. Edmonds is eighty-six and the holder of the towns gold headed cane. He had gone fishing, what do you know about that? We also saw Wild Hickory. All these people said that they read the Dixfield write-up and it reminded them of old times. Mrs. Stanley sent her copy to Claude Griffith in Pasadena, Cal. They drove out of that handsome and prosperous little village and up river to Ramford, where we enjoyed looking at the new Memorial bridge, which is nearly finished, though it was dedicated July 4, 1930. Arrived home by way Green woods road at five p. m.

Sunday morning at ten o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Maycomber left for home taking Grace and Gertrude Bartlett, whom they carried to South Eppingham, Mass., that night, a distance of two hundred and thirty-five miles. The girls stopped over night with Miss Hazel Burr and her family and the next day Miss Burr carried them down to Bridgton, R. I., which is about forty miles to visit Mr. and Mrs. Brandon Patterson for a week. Mrs. Patterson was Miss Doris Bartlett.

Irving and Jerry Bartlett went to Howard Pond and Indian Run Camps, Sunday, in Jerry's Chevrolet sedan.

BUCKFIELD

Purchased Lodge House—Party Occupying Irish Rent

Charles Gauthier has purchased the place in the village, known as the Lodge house, from George Hersey.
Rev. Ezra Stevens, Universalist minister, at Saugus, Mass., will occupy the pulpit at the United Baptist church, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bennett spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Pearson.
Mrs. Ella Buck, who has been sick for two months at the home of Horace Murph, has been moved to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Roache, at Livermore.

Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor, Mrs. Dot Record, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Hosley, Mrs. Lionel Russell, Mrs. Hazel Foster, Mildred Pearson, Mrs. Florence Bryant, Harold Record, John Ellingwood and Llewellyn Jordan were in Lewiston, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton W. Irish and two children, Waldron and Eleanor, and Mrs. Barbara Pearson and two children, David and Carroll of Melrose, Mass., are occupying the rent upstairs at the home of Miss Myra Irish.

Percy Jones has returned home after visiting his father, Mr. Jones in Bingham. Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Fuller and two children, Annette and Carline, of Fort Fairfield, are summer guests of Mrs. Fuller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Conant.

Mr. and Mrs. James Irish and Howard, Mrs. Benjamin Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Chase and mother, Mrs. Chase, attended the funeral of E. A. Gammon in Mechanic Falls, Thursday.

Mrs. Naomi Jones and Billy are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Correy Bonney of Sumner.
Miss Viola Erickson, South Paris, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott.

NORTHWEST NORWAY

Oliver Frechette took a truck load of fish to Portland, Sunday, to go deep sea fishing. Those going from this neighborhood were Jack and Philip French, Merle Merrill and George Dunn. Leslie Flint was calling in the neighborhood on business one day last week. Leah Bessy visited with Thelma French last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Merrill visited her sister, Mrs. Fred Dunn, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Frechette and family visited at Addison Heath's, Sunday.

Merle Merrill went to Sweden, one day last week to carry his sister home.
Mrs. Wayland Upton and family were Sunday callers at C. G. French's. Frances Ayer is visiting Mabel Merrill.

ALLEN—WEST BETHEL

Mrs. L. Goodridge and son, Ralph, of Portland, visited Mrs. Estella Goodridge, the 4th.
George Bennett is working for Morris Tyler on Grover Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maddocks of New Haven, Conn., are spending the summer at "Camp Logwood" in the Bog.
Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Anderson and son of Norway spent the week end with T. E. Westleigh and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Kneeland and children visited in Farmington and Buxton over the week end.
Mrs. C. W. Bell spent the week end in Auburn and South Paris with friends.

Norman and Malcolm Loring of Philadelphia, Pa., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hall.
At West Bethel union church, H. F. McGlasson, minister, "Junk the church! Why Not Do So?" will be the question for consideration Sunday morning, July 13th at 10:30. "Folks Live by Play" will be the sermon for the evening worship at 7:30. This will be the second of the series of sermons on "Things that Folk Live By". The Young People's Fellowship will hold a social in the church vestry, Wednesday evening, July 16th, at 7:30.

WHITEWASHING

Coy stables are usually whitewashed once or twice a year. Although many whitewash formulas call for the addition to the lime and water of other substances such as salt or skim milk, good whitewash can be made with only lime and water. Ordinary hydrated lime mixed with water makes satisfactory whitewash; or quicklime (ordinarily called lump lime) may be slaked with a small amount of water. Only freshly burned lump lime should be used. Do not use air-slaked lime, as whitewash made from such lime will not stick.

HIGH CLASS WATCH REPAIRING

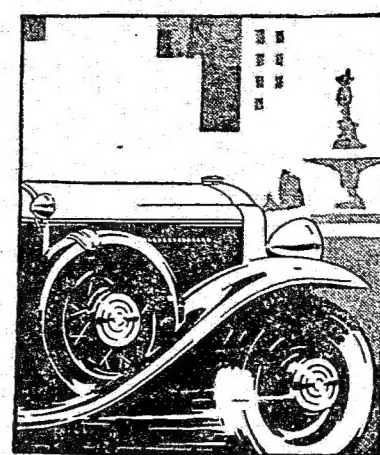

Scientific work and satisfaction guaranteed. Railroad Watch Inspector for years. Nothing too difficult.

STEWART SHAW

Watchmaker and Jeweler

Odd Fellows' Block

South Paris

THERE'S A TREND TO VALUE...

AMERICA IS CHOOSING

BUICK

Consider what these SIX GREAT RECORDS
mean to you . . .

- 1 Two people have purchased Buicks, year after year, for every one buyer of any other automobile priced above $1200.
- 2 There are 700,000 more people buying Buicks than any other of the fifteen makes of cars in Buick's price class.
- 3 Women, in every section of America, purchase more than twice as many Buicks as any other car priced above $1200.
- 4 More than four out of every five—83 per cent of the great army of 1,500,000 Buick owners—buy Buicks again and again.
- 5 Month after month, today's Buick has won 30 to 50 per cent of the combined sales of the fifteen makes in its price class.
- 6 Buick owners alone purchase more Buicks than the total annual production of any other car priced above $1200.

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY, FLINT, MICHIGAN

Canadian Factories Builders of McLaughlin-Buick, Oshawa, Ont. Buick and Marquette Motor Cars

Norway Buick Company

Norway, Maine

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT . . . BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Agent For GENERAL MOTORS RADIO
Bradford Bros.

NORWAY, MAINE

PAINTS...VARNISHES. DUCO

Get Good Paint

DU PONT Paints wear better and longer, but they cost no more. The Du Pont way of testing paint insures satisfaction on every job. Colors endure. Your master painter will be glad to use Du Pont because he knows that Du Pont paints give satisfaction.

Du Pont offers through us a useful Color Service. Drop in soon and learn about these things.

For Sale By

Denison - Greenlaw Co.

Depot Square

NORWAY, ME.

KOHLER OF KOHLER

Who Bosses YOUR Bathroom?

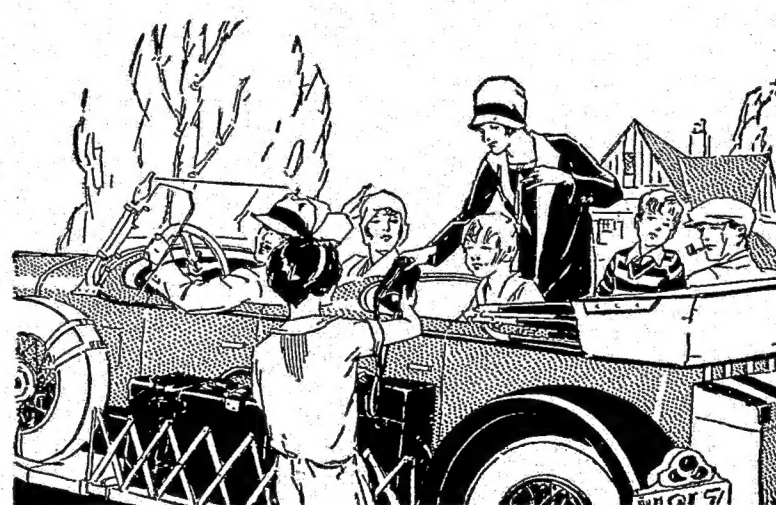

Can you call your bathroom your own—or do the children monopolize it just when you want it? If they do, the answer is another bathroom.

We are experts at installing new bathrooms in old houses. We know how to do it at moderate cost; too, though we insist on the most thorough workmanship and the finest plumbing fixtures obtainable—Kohler Ware, for instance.

Call us up and ask us to estimate, anyway. No charge for that. And no obligation.

L. M. Longley & Son

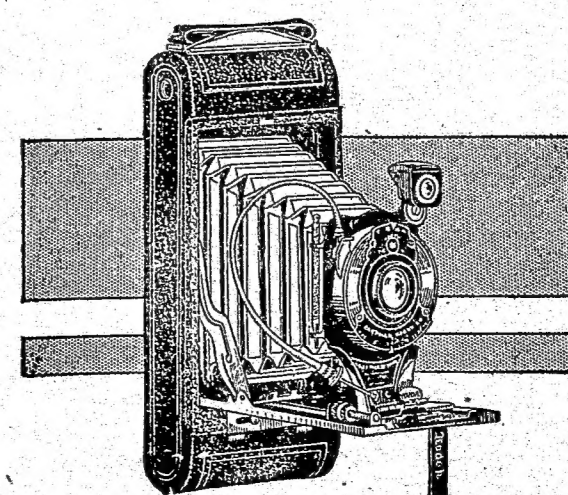

NORWAY, MAINE

Kodaks $5 up

Brownies $2 up

On your vacation trip, you'll find many picture opportunities that you will not want to miss. Come in now and get a dependable Eastman Camera to take along with you. Use Eastman's films sent direct from factory to you at Stone's, Eastman direct dealer. Kodak films in the yellow box make the best pictures for you every time. Let us have your exposed films for the highest grade finishing. We give prompt service and moderate prices.

F. P. Stone

Your Druggist

The Rexall Store

NORWAY, MAINE

Telephone 60

Sunday Hours 9 to 12 a. m.; 5 to 7 p. m.

A Registered Druggist in Attendance.

"There is No Ice Cream Like Stone's"

The Rise of Tom Hadley

By C. F. Whitman

CHAPTER VIII

Tom Gets a Situation

Tom and Charley were warmly greeted by the ladies when they made their appearance in the dining room for breakfast. Mrs. Benton put her arms around them saying: "I am proud of both of you. I was anxious last night that you should get injured by those terrible men, but you have come out of it unharmed and with great credit to yourselves. Mr. Benton thinks that the hearing in court may take place this afternoon. He has gone down to the bank and he wants you both to come there as soon as you have eaten your breakfast."

"I had thought," said Tom, "that I'd better be looking up a situation. There is evidence enough to hold the burglar for the higher court without me, and I shall not be needed."

"Oh yes, you will be, Jarvis says. We talked the matter over this morning. He thinks there is a situation for you here, and we are ready for you to leave us, just as you are children?"

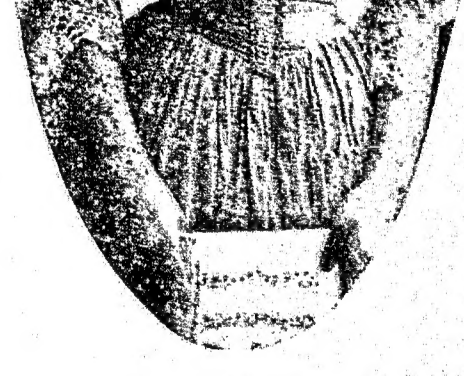

"You bet we are not mother," exclaimed Charley. "Why Tom already seems like a brother to me. I couldn't get along without him now and don't you feel that way, too, Maude?"

"That young lady, who had said little to me thus far, blushed and replied: 'I would not put it quite so strong as that, Charley, but we do want him to stay if he likes us well enough to do so. He will be a help to us in our much needed and good companion for you, Charley.'

"That's the stuff, good sis. I've been more in the last twelve hours than for half as many years," Charley said. "Well, well, Charley, that's going some," exclaimed Tom, "since you must have slept six hours of that time, at least. I'm afraid I won't stay as well as your acquaintance as I seem to have been by every one of the family—another look at Miss Benton—since I came among you? It is one of the pleasantest episodes of my life. If it is my good fortune to make my future home in Alderburg, you Miss Benton, must call me Tom. It makes me feel odd to be misnamed."

"Then you must call me Maude and not Miss Benton as much."

"Well, I suppose it will come natural enough by and by to do so, but somehow I don't feel that familiar just yet, with such a high level of charming lady—pardon me for saying it."

MAUDE

"Oh, I'm quite of common mould, aren't I, Charley?"

"Not a bit of it, sis. There is no one Maude, quite your equal," he declared, smiling. They were interrupted by the ringing of the door bell and Charley and Tom went into the library to meet a caller.

He was Zach Chandler, a reporter from the office of "The Alderburg Advertiser," who wanted Tom's and Charley's pictures for the story of the capture of the tramps, which he had obtained from Mr. Benton. The reporter took a snapshot of them together, with his kodak. Tom suggested that he also take snapshots of the justice, the officer and the three tramps in a group before they were barred by "Shorty" Cook and the reporter hurried away for that week's issue of the paper.

Tom and Charley then went to the bank—Tom for an interview with Mr. Benton—and Charley to perform his duties as assistant cashier. Tom found the president of the bank unavenged and ready to talk with him. His greeting was most cordial.

"Good morning, my boy," he said. "How do you feel after our night's serenade?"

"Good morning, sir. I am feeling fine. There is nothing like having such good care as I've received in your family and ready to feel so welcome. It seems as if I'd come into paradise."

"Glad you feel that way, young man. We have all taken a great liking to you. I fear, Mr. Benton, that I don't know it."

"Oh yes, you do, my boy. You fit into a niche in the family circle, which must have been waiting for you, I guess. You have turned up at the right time for your self, and for me as it seems."

"For you?" inquired Tom in surprise.

"Yes, I have use for you as you will see, if you conclude to stay in Alderburg. There is an opening for you in the store as manager. Later don't seem to be doing much with the business. You are resourceful and willing to learn, I believe. But there is another place—a temporary one at present—which requires a person of energy and some capacity, and that is the express business. Moses Harris is the expressman here, but he is seriously sick and his daughter Josephine, a girl of eighteen, with the help of a boy, Bert Clark, a son of one of our uphull work for her. Perhaps you had better take this one and straighten things out. If Moses gets better and is able to do his work, I can put you into the store at fair wages. The express business pays seventy-five dollars a month. What do you say to that?"

"That will suit me first rate. You are putting me on my feet, Mr. Benton, and I can never be grateful enough for your kindness and interest in me. You will never be disappointed from any act of mine, and what you desire will always go with me. I shall look to you if my way seems to be my greatest endeavor. But shan't I need a bond, suppose a bonding company would fun

REPAIRING
Guaranteed. Railroad difficult.
South Paris

K ORDS

for every $1200.

more than above $1200.

of the great and again.

100 percent of the class.

the total above $1200.

CHICAGO

any ould then

ould then

ould then

ould then

ould then

ould then

ould then

ould then

ould then

The Rise of Tom Hadley

By C. F. Whitman

CHAPTER VIII

Tom Gets a Situation

Tom and Charley were warmly greeted by the ladies when they made their appearance in the dining room for breakfast. Mrs. Benton put her arms around them saying: "I am proud of both of you. I was anxious last night lest you should get injured by those terrible men, but you have come out of it unharmed and with great credit to yourselves. Mr. Benton thinks that the hearing in court may take place this afternoon. He has gone down to the bank and he wants you both to come there as soon as you have eaten your breakfast."

"I had thought," said Tom, "that there was evidence enough to hold the lawyers for the higher court without me and I shall not be needed."

"Oh, yes, you will be, Jarvis says. We talked the matter over this morning before he went away. He thinks there is a possibility for you here, and we are not ready for you to leave us, just yet, are we, children?"

"You bet we are not mother," exclaimed Charley. "Why Tom already seems like a brother to me. I couldn't get along without him now and don't you feel that way, too, Maude?"

"That young lady, who had said little things for a while, replied: 'I would not feel quite so strong as that, Charley, but we do want him to stay if he likes well enough to do so. He will be a help to us in our music and a great companion for you, Charley. I've lived in the last twelve hours than for many years.'

"Well, well, Charley, that's going well," exclaimed Tom, "since you must have slept six hours of that time, at least. I don't mind wearing a suit on for the acquaintance as I seem to have secured in, and it would really hurt me to measure, to fall in your good graces. But I like you all"—glancing slyly at Maude—"very, very much. And who has treated better than I have been every one of the family"—another sly glance at Miss Benton—"since I came along?"

"It is one of the pleasantest things of my life, if it is my good fortune to make my future home in Alderburg, you Miss Benton, must call me Tom. It makes me feel old to be mistaken."

"Then you must call me Maude and Mrs. Benton me so much."

"Well, I suppose it will come natural enough by and by to do so, but somehow I don't feel that familiar just yet, with a high bred and charming lady—pardon me for saying it."

JOSEPHINE HARRIS

Mr. Benton said: "Josephine, here is someone who will take charge of the express business till your father is able to do it. Go home and help your mother. And here, Bert, assist Tom to load the wagon and show him where to go. To Tom: 'We shall expect you up to the house at dinner.'"

"Yes, I suppose I'll come this time, but I think I'd better get a boarding place near here, so that I can put my whole time into the business. I mustn't let anything interfere with that, however much I enjoy being with your family."

"I had thought you might possibly wish to do that. Well, we will consider it later," and with this the great man went back to the bank.

Tom expressed his sympathy to Miss Harris for the affliction and trouble she was in, and her of his assistance, and he could help in any way. She thanked him, and hastily left the office.

Tom began with a system. Parcels and boxes for delivery to Alderburg, citizens residing on the same street, or in the same vicinity, were put into the delivery wagon together, so that they might be delivered without its being necessary to go over the same ground but once. There was enough to make three loads. As the first one was ready, Tom mounted the wagon seat, with Bert by his side to tell him where the parties lived or did business, and with the reins in his right hand, started the old horse off on a canter, by which he led to his thanks every few paces. "Get up old slow boy!" Crack! Crack! Snap! "You can't doze on my hands," exclaimed the determined driver.

"Here, here," yelled Bert, "is a place to stop."

"Whoa!" shouted Tom, and the horse which understood that command perfectly well, from long usage, came to such a sudden halt, that had not Tom caught hold of him, Bert would have been pitched out of his seat onto the animal's back. The package delivered, they were moving on again at an increasing speed with Tom applying the whip. In turning corner, Bert suddenly came perilously near being pitched out of the wagon and shouted: "Look here, mister, if this is the way you are going to make the deliveries, I'll get out and foot it!"

"Keep your jacket on, boy, and hang to the rigging. This go-around couldn't be tipped over by any rate of speed," was the curt response of Tom.

At a little before the noon hour, Tom threw out his lightning weight at the bank home. He took into the house some parcels, saying: "The office is cleared out and these are the last to be delivered. The sleepy fellow can cool off till after dinner, when he can be given him." Charley, who with his father, had reached home before Tom, laughed uproariously. "You walked the whole village up as you rattled through the streets. The business men are pleased that a stirring young fellow has taken charge of the express business, but they will see to it that their packages will be promptly delivered. Guess you will have to get a new boy, though, Bert is thoroughly scared at the way you go around the corners," and he laughed again.

Mr. Benton smiled and said: "You have started in well, boy. The girls are pleased to see that there will be improvement in the matter of express deliveries."

At about half the usual time spent at the noon meal, Tom asked to be excused, to look after the horse and to write home and mail his letter to go out on the afternoon train that the folks might hear on the morrow into what good hands he had fallen.

"That's right, my boy," said Mr. Benton, "keep the folks at home informed of your doings. It's well to be in close touch with them."

With the rattle of the wheels of the express wagon as Tom drove away, Mr. Benton told his folks that Tom proposed getting a boarding place near the express office, for his better oversight of the business. The announcement at once raised a commotion. Charley fairly stormed. "Go away! Go away!" he won't have it. "I want him with me. I can take him about it's being necessary to board near the office. We won't have it, will we?"

JOSEPHINE HARRIS

Mr. Benton said: "Josephine, here is someone who will take charge of the express business till your father is able to do it. Go home and help your mother. And here, Bert, assist Tom to load the wagon and show him where to go. To Tom: 'We shall expect you up to the house at dinner.'"

"Yes, I suppose I'll come this time, but I think I'd better get a boarding place near here, so that I can put my whole time into the business. I mustn't let anything interfere with that, however much I enjoy being with your family."

"I had thought you might possibly wish to do that. Well, we will consider it later," and with this the great man went back to the bank.

Tom expressed his sympathy to Miss Harris for the affliction and trouble she was in, and her of his assistance, and he could help in any way. She thanked him, and hastily left the office.

Tom began with a system. Parcels and boxes for delivery to Alderburg, citizens residing on the same street, or in the same vicinity, were put into the delivery wagon together, so that they might be delivered without its being necessary to go over the same ground but once. There was enough to make three loads. As the first one was ready, Tom mounted the wagon seat, with Bert by his side to tell him where the parties lived or did business, and with the reins in his right hand, started the old horse off on a canter, by which he led to his thanks every few paces. "Get up old slow boy!" Crack! Crack! Snap! "You can't doze on my hands," exclaimed the determined driver.

"Here, here," yelled Bert, "is a place to stop."

"Whoa!" shouted Tom, and the horse which understood that command perfectly well, from long usage, came to such a sudden halt, that had not Tom caught hold of him, Bert would have been pitched out of his seat onto the animal's back. The package delivered, they were moving on again at an increasing speed with Tom applying the whip. In turning corner, Bert suddenly came perilously near being pitched out of the wagon and shouted: "Look here, mister, if this is the way you are going to make the deliveries, I'll get out and foot it!"

"Keep your jacket on, boy, and hang to the rigging. This go-around couldn't be tipped over by any rate of speed," was the curt response of Tom.

At a little before the noon hour, Tom threw out his lightning weight at the bank home. He took into the house some parcels, saying: "The office is cleared out and these are the last to be delivered. The sleepy fellow can cool off till after dinner, when he can be given him." Charley, who with his father, had reached home before Tom, laughed uproariously. "You walked the whole village up as you rattled through the streets. The business men are pleased that a stirring young fellow has taken charge of the express business, but they will see to it that their packages will be promptly delivered. Guess you will have to get a new boy, though, Bert is thoroughly scared at the way you go around the corners," and he laughed again.

Mr. Benton smiled and said: "You have started in well, boy. The girls are pleased to see that there will be improvement in the matter of express deliveries."

At about half the usual time spent at the noon meal, Tom asked to be excused, to look after the horse and to write home and mail his letter to go out on the afternoon train that the folks might hear on the morrow into what good hands he had fallen.

"That's right, my boy," said Mr. Benton, "keep the folks at home informed of your doings. It's well to be in close touch with them."

With the rattle of the wheels of the express wagon as Tom drove away, Mr. Benton told his folks that Tom proposed getting a boarding place near the express office, for his better oversight of the business. The announcement at once raised a commotion. Charley fairly stormed. "Go away! Go away!" he won't have it. "I want him with me. I can take him about it's being necessary to board near the office. We won't have it, will we?"

JOSEPHINE HARRIS

Mr. Benton said: "Josephine, here is someone who will take charge of the express business till your father is able to do it. Go home and help your mother. And here, Bert, assist Tom to load the wagon and show him where to go. To Tom: 'We shall expect you up to the house at dinner.'"

"Yes, I suppose I'll come this time, but I think I'd better get a boarding place near here, so that I can put my whole time into the business. I mustn't let anything interfere with that, however much I enjoy being with your family."

"I had thought you might possibly wish to do that. Well, we will consider it later," and with this the great man went back to the bank.

Tom expressed his sympathy to Miss Harris for the affliction and trouble she was in, and her of his assistance, and he could help in any way. She thanked him, and hastily left the office.

Tom began with a system. Parcels and boxes for delivery to Alderburg, citizens residing on the same street, or in the same vicinity, were put into the delivery wagon together, so that they might be delivered without its being necessary to go over the same ground but once. There was enough to make three loads. As the first one was ready, Tom mounted the wagon seat, with Bert by his side to tell him where the parties lived or did business, and with the reins in his right hand, started the old horse off on a canter, by which he led to his thanks every few paces. "Get up old slow boy!" Crack! Crack! Snap! "You can't doze on my hands," exclaimed the determined driver.

nish what I require by filing with surties a certificate of good moral character and competency to fill the position."

"Never mind my boy, I'll look after the board matter. I have decided that tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock, the tramps will have their hearing before Justice Jones Randolph in the town hall. We shall be required, with Charley as witnesses. I told them that we would be on hand without being summoned. You will be the principal witness for the prosecution, but I suppose you do not know much about proceedings in court."

"But I do, Mr. Benton. I've often witnessed such trials before Justice Albert Adams at Lakeport and I understand how they are conducted. My father thinks I was cut out for a lawyer, but I didn't like certain features of the practice such as I saw used by Joe Peters, the village lawyer there, who is a shyster and unscrupulous. That was the cause of the disagreement between us. When father was a candidate the last time for the legislature, Peters ran against him and was badly beaten. He never could get elected to any office of importance, where he is known."

"Our attorney here is a good man and is well grounded in the basic principles of the laws," said Benton. "His name is Mr. Cyrus Whiting. He will conduct our side of this case. Some of the well having element here, who oppose every thing some of us are interested in, have secured Joram Pincheon of Jonesboro, a town about ten miles south of here, to defend the criminals. He has a great reputation for grilling witnesses on their cross examination. But let us go down to the express office and see how affairs are there."

They found that the express matter to go out on the forenoon train had been attended to, but with packages to be delivered in the village, and Miss Harris are almost distracted at the situation, and her father's sickness. She told Mr. Benton that he was worse when she left the house and she felt that she ought to be at home. At this time Bert Clark drove up to the door for more packages.

JOSEPHINE HARRIS

Mr. Benton said: "Josephine, here is someone who will take charge of the express business till your father is able to do it. Go home and help your mother. And here, Bert, assist Tom to load the wagon and show him where to go. To Tom: 'We shall expect you up to the house at dinner.'"

"Yes, I suppose I'll come this time, but I think I'd better get a boarding place near here, so that I can put my whole time into the business. I mustn't let anything interfere with that, however much I enjoy being with your family."

"I had thought you might possibly wish to do that. Well, we will consider it later," and with this the great man went back to the bank.

Tom expressed his sympathy to Miss Harris for the affliction and trouble she was in, and her of his assistance, and he could help in any way. She thanked him, and hastily left the office.

Tom began with a system. Parcels and boxes for delivery to Alderburg, citizens residing on the same street, or in the same vicinity, were put into the delivery wagon together, so that they might be delivered without its being necessary to go over the same ground but once. There was enough to make three loads. As the first one was ready, Tom mounted the wagon seat, with Bert by his side to tell him where the parties lived or did business, and with the reins in his right hand, started the old horse off on a canter, by which he led to his thanks every few paces. "Get up old slow boy!" Crack! Crack! Snap! "You can't doze on my hands," exclaimed the determined driver.

"Here, here," yelled Bert, "is a place to stop."

"Whoa!" shouted Tom, and the horse which understood that command perfectly well, from long usage, came to such a sudden halt, that had not Tom caught hold of him, Bert would have been pitched out of his seat onto the animal's back. The package delivered, they were moving on again at an increasing speed with Tom applying the whip. In turning corner, Bert suddenly came perilously near being pitched out of the wagon and shouted: "Look here, mister, if this is the way you are going to make the deliveries, I'll get out and foot it!"

"Keep your jacket on, boy, and hang to the rigging. This go-around couldn't be tipped over by any rate of speed," was the curt response of Tom.

At a little before the noon hour, Tom threw out his lightning weight at the bank home. He took into the house some parcels, saying: "The office is cleared out and these are the last to be delivered. The sleepy fellow can cool off till after dinner, when he can be given him." Charley, who with his father, had reached home before Tom, laughed uproariously. "You walked the whole village up as you rattled through the streets. The business men are pleased that a stirring young fellow has taken charge of the express business, but they will see to it that their packages will be promptly delivered. Guess you will have to get a new boy, though, Bert is thoroughly scared at the way you go around the corners," and he laughed again.

Mr. Benton smiled and said: "You have started in well, boy. The girls are pleased to see that there will be improvement in the matter of express deliveries."

At about half the usual time spent at the noon meal, Tom asked to be excused, to look after the horse and to write home and mail his letter to go out on the afternoon train that the folks might hear on the morrow into what good hands he had fallen.

"That's right, my boy," said Mr. Benton, "keep the folks at home informed of your doings. It's well to be in close touch with them."

With the rattle of the wheels of the express wagon as Tom drove away, Mr. Benton told his folks that Tom proposed getting a boarding place near the express office, for his better oversight of the business. The announcement at once raised a commotion. Charley fairly stormed. "Go away! Go away!" he won't have it. "I want him with me. I can take him about it's being necessary to board near the office. We won't have it, will we?"

JOSEPHINE HARRIS

Mr. Benton said: "Josephine, here is someone who will take charge of the express business till your father is able to do it. Go home and help your mother. And here, Bert, assist Tom to load the wagon and show him where to go. To Tom: 'We shall expect you up to the house at dinner.'"

"Yes, I suppose I'll come this time, but I think I'd better get a boarding place near here, so that I can put my whole time into the business. I mustn't let anything interfere with that, however much I enjoy being with your family."

"I had thought you might possibly wish to do that. Well, we will consider it later," and with this the great man went back to the bank.

Tom expressed his sympathy to Miss Harris for the affliction and trouble she was in, and her of his assistance, and he could help in any way. She thanked him, and hastily left the office.

Tom began with a system. Parcels and boxes for delivery to Alderburg, citizens residing on the same street, or in the same vicinity, were put into the delivery wagon together, so that they might be delivered without its being necessary to go over the same ground but once. There was enough to make three loads. As the first one was ready, Tom mounted the wagon seat, with Bert by his side to tell him where the parties lived or did business, and with the reins in his right hand, started the old horse off on a canter, by which he led to his thanks every few paces. "Get up old slow boy!" Crack! Crack! Snap! "You can't doze on my hands," exclaimed the determined driver.

"Here, here," yelled Bert, "is a place to stop."

"Whoa!" shouted Tom, and the horse which understood that command perfectly well, from long usage, came to such a sudden halt, that had not Tom caught hold of him, Bert would have been pitched out of his seat onto the animal's back. The package delivered, they were moving on again at an increasing speed with Tom applying the whip. In turning corner, Bert suddenly came perilously near being pitched out of the wagon and shouted: "Look here, mister, if this is the way you are going to make the deliveries, I'll get out and foot it!"

"Keep your jacket on, boy, and hang to the rigging. This go-around couldn't be tipped over by any rate of speed," was the curt response of Tom.

At a little before the noon hour, Tom threw out his lightning weight at the bank home. He took into the house some parcels, saying: "The office is cleared out and these are the last to be delivered. The sleepy fellow can cool off till after dinner, when he can be given him." Charley, who with his father, had reached home before Tom, laughed uproariously. "You walked the whole village up as you rattled through the streets. The business men are pleased that a stirring young fellow has taken charge of the express business, but they will see to it that their packages will be promptly delivered. Guess you will have to get a new boy, though, Bert is thoroughly scared at the way you go around the corners," and he laughed again.

Mr. Benton smiled and said: "You have started in well, boy. The girls are pleased to see that there will be improvement in the matter of express deliveries."

At about half the usual time spent at the noon meal, Tom asked to be excused, to look after the horse and to write home and mail his letter to go out on the afternoon train that the folks might hear on the morrow into what good hands he had fallen.

"That's right, my boy," said Mr. Benton, "keep the folks at home informed of your doings. It's well to be in close touch with them."

With the rattle of the wheels of the express wagon as Tom drove away, Mr. Benton told his folks that Tom proposed getting a boarding place near the express office, for his better oversight of the business. The announcement at once raised a commotion. Charley fairly stormed. "Go away! Go away!" he won't have it. "I want him with me. I can take him about it's being necessary to board near the office. We won't have it, will we?"

JOSEPHINE HARRIS

Mr. Benton said: "Josephine, here is someone who will take charge of the express business till your father is able to do it. Go home and help your mother. And here, Bert, assist Tom to load the wagon and show him where to go. To Tom: 'We shall expect you up to the house at dinner.'"

"Yes, I suppose I'll come this time, but I think I'd better get a boarding place near here, so that I can put my whole time into the business. I mustn't let anything interfere with that, however much I enjoy being with your family."

"I had thought you might possibly wish to do that. Well, we will consider it later," and with this the great man went back to the bank.

Tom expressed his sympathy to Miss Harris for the affliction and trouble she was in, and her of his assistance, and he could help in any way. She thanked him, and hastily left the office.

Tom began with a system. Parcels and boxes for delivery to Alderburg, citizens residing on the same street, or in the same vicinity, were put into the delivery wagon together, so that they might be delivered without its being necessary to go over the same ground but once. There was enough to make three loads. As the first one was ready, Tom mounted the wagon seat, with Bert by his side to tell him where the parties lived or did business, and with the reins in his right hand, started the old horse off on a canter, by which he led to his thanks every few paces. "Get up old slow boy!" Crack! Crack! Snap! "You can't doze on my hands," exclaimed the determined driver.

"Here, here," yelled Bert, "is a place to stop."

"Whoa!" shouted Tom, and the horse which understood that command perfectly well, from long usage, came to such a sudden halt, that had not Tom caught hold of him, Bert would have been pitched out of his seat onto the animal's back. The package delivered, they were moving on again at an increasing speed with Tom applying the whip. In turning corner, Bert suddenly came perilously near being pitched out of the wagon and shouted: "Look here, mister, if this is the way you are going to make the deliveries, I'll get out and foot it!"

"Keep your jacket on, boy, and hang to the rigging. This go-around couldn't be tipped over by any rate of speed," was the curt response of Tom.

At a little before the noon hour, Tom threw out his lightning weight at the bank home. He took into the house some parcels, saying: "The office is cleared out and these are the last to be delivered. The sleepy fellow can cool off till after dinner, when he can be given him." Charley, who with his father, had reached home before Tom, laughed uproariously. "You walked the whole village up as you rattled through the streets. The business men are pleased that a stirring young fellow has taken charge of the express business, but they will see to it that their packages will be promptly delivered. Guess you will have to get a new boy, though, Bert is thoroughly scared at the way you go around the corners," and he laughed again.

Mr. Benton smiled and said: "You have started in well, boy. The girls are pleased to see that there will be improvement in the matter of express deliveries."

At about half the usual time spent at the noon meal, Tom asked to be excused, to look after the horse and to write home and mail his letter to go out on the afternoon train that the folks might hear on the morrow into what good hands he had fallen.

"That's right, my boy," said Mr. Benton, "keep the folks at home informed of your doings. It's well to be in close touch with them."

With the rattle of the wheels of the express wagon as Tom drove away, Mr. Benton told his folks that Tom proposed getting a boarding place near the express office, for his better oversight of the business. The announcement at once raised a commotion. Charley fairly stormed. "Go away! Go away!" he won't have it. "I want him with me. I can take him about it's being necessary to board near the office. We won't have it, will we?"

mother? And what do you say, Maude? You can stop this foolishness, if you ask him to stay."

"Oh, Charley, I couldn't do that. It wouldn't be the proper thing. Don't you see that, answered his sister."

"Of course, Charley, Maude can't do that, but I'll be greatly disappointed to have him go away to board—he is such a smart, nice boy, and for your sake, Charley, especially, I had hoped he would stay with us. It seemed so good to see you two together. Mrs. Benton, that I allow him to pay any board. It's best, however, to let the young man have his own way. He won't forsake us. He likes us all too well for that. He is very grateful to me for obtaining the situation he has, and will be governed by my wishes and advice."

"Well, Jarvis," said his wife, "I suppose, now that I had seen your heart on having him in the family, and shall not be readily reconciled to have him make his home elsewhere."

"Our attorney here is a good man and is well grounded in the basic principles of the laws," said Benton. "His name is Mr. Cyrus Whiting. He will conduct our side of this case. Some of the well having element here, who oppose every thing some of us are interested in, have secured Joram Pincheon of Jonesboro, a town about ten miles south of here, to defend the criminals. He has a great reputation for grilling witnesses on their cross examination. But let us go down to the express office and see how affairs are there."

They found that the express matter to go out on the forenoon train had been attended to, but with packages to be delivered in the village, and Miss Harris are almost distracted at the situation, and her father's sickness. She told Mr. Benton that he was worse when she left the house and she felt that she ought to be at home. At this time Bert Clark drove up to the door for more packages.

JOSEPHINE HARRIS

Mr. Benton said: "Josephine, here is someone who will take charge of the express business till your father is able to do it. Go home and help your mother. And here, Bert, assist Tom to load the wagon and show him where to go. To Tom: 'We shall expect you up to the house at dinner.'"

"Yes, I suppose I'll come this time, but I think I'd better get a boarding place near here, so that I can put my whole time into the business. I mustn't let anything interfere with that, however much I enjoy being with your family."

"I had thought you might possibly wish to do that. Well, we will consider it later," and with this the great man went back to the bank.

Tom expressed his sympathy to Miss Harris for the affliction and trouble she was in, and her of his assistance, and he could help in any way. She thanked him, and hastily left the office.

Tom began with a system. Parcels and boxes for delivery to Alderburg, citizens residing on the same street, or in the same vicinity, were put into the delivery wagon together, so that they might be delivered without its being necessary to go over the same ground but once. There was enough to make three loads. As the first one was ready, Tom mounted the wagon seat, with Bert by his side to tell him where the parties lived or did business, and with the reins in his right hand, started the old horse off on a canter, by which he led to his thanks every few paces. "Get up old slow boy!" Crack! Crack! Snap! "You can't doze on my hands," exclaimed the determined driver.

"Here, here," yelled Bert, "is a place to stop."

"Whoa!" shouted Tom, and the horse which understood that command perfectly well, from long usage, came to such a sudden halt, that had not Tom caught hold of him, Bert would have been pitched out of his seat onto the animal's back. The package delivered, they were moving on again at an increasing speed with Tom applying the whip. In turning corner, Bert suddenly came perilously near being pitched out of the wagon and shouted: "Look here, mister, if this is the way you are going to make the deliveries, I'll get out and foot it!"

"Keep your jacket on, boy, and hang to the rigging. This go-around couldn't be tipped over by any rate of speed," was the curt response of Tom.

At a little before the noon hour, Tom threw out his lightning weight at the bank home. He took into the house some parcels, saying: "The office is cleared out and these are the last to be delivered. The sleepy fellow can cool off till after dinner, when he can be given him." Charley, who with his father, had reached home before Tom, laughed uproariously. "You walked the whole village up as you rattled through the streets. The business men are pleased that a stirring young fellow has taken charge of the express business, but they will see to it that their packages will be promptly delivered. Guess you will have to get a new boy, though, Bert is thoroughly scared at the way you go around the corners," and he laughed again.

Mr. Benton smiled and said: "You have started in well, boy. The girls are pleased to see that there will be improvement in the matter of express deliveries."

At about half the usual time spent at the noon meal, Tom asked to be excused, to look after the horse and to write home and mail his letter to go out on the afternoon train that the folks might hear on the morrow into what good hands he had fallen.

"That's right, my boy," said Mr. Benton, "keep the folks at home informed of your doings. It's well to be in close touch with them."

With the rattle of the wheels of the express wagon as Tom drove away, Mr. Benton told his folks that Tom proposed getting a boarding place near the express office, for his better oversight of the business. The announcement at once raised a commotion. Charley fairly stormed. "Go away! Go away!" he won't have it. "I want him with me. I can take him about it's being necessary to board near the office. We won't have it, will we?"

JOSEPHINE HARRIS

Mr. Benton said: "Josephine, here is someone who will take charge of the express business till your father is able to do it. Go home and help your mother. And here, Bert, assist Tom to load the wagon and show him where to go. To Tom: 'We shall expect you up to the house at dinner.'"

"Yes, I suppose I'll come this time, but I think I'd better get a boarding place near here, so that I can put my whole time into the business. I mustn't let anything interfere with that, however much I enjoy being with your family."

"I had thought you might possibly wish to do that. Well, we will consider it later," and with this the great man went back to the bank.

Tom expressed his sympathy to Miss Harris for the affliction and trouble she was in, and her of his assistance, and he could help in any way. She thanked him, and hastily left the office.

Tom began with a system. Parcels and boxes for delivery to Alderburg, citizens residing on the same street, or in the same vicinity, were put into the delivery wagon together, so that they might be delivered without its being necessary to go over the same ground but once. There was enough to make three loads. As the first one was ready, Tom mounted the wagon seat, with Bert by his side to tell him where the parties lived or did business, and with the reins in his right hand, started the old horse off on a canter, by which he led to his thanks every few paces. "Get up old slow boy!" Crack! Crack! Snap! "You can't doze on my hands," exclaimed the determined driver.

"Here, here," yelled Bert, "is a place to stop."

"Whoa!" shouted Tom, and the horse which understood that command perfectly well, from long usage, came to such a sudden halt, that had not Tom caught hold of him, Bert would have been pitched out of his seat onto the animal's back. The package delivered, they were moving on again at an increasing speed with Tom applying the whip. In turning corner, Bert suddenly came perilously near being pitched out of the wagon and shouted: "Look here, mister, if this is the way you are going to make the deliveries, I'll get out and foot it!"

"Keep your jacket on, boy, and hang to the rigging. This go-around couldn't be tipped over by any rate of speed," was the curt response of Tom.

At a little before the noon hour, Tom threw out his lightning weight at the bank home. He took into the house some parcels, saying: "The office is cleared out and these are the last to be delivered. The sleepy fellow can cool off till

SUMMER

Barlett's Have New Cars—Letter from Old Friends—Friendly Comments On Recent Article.

The new cook and boarding house keepers at the mill are Mr. and Mrs. Averill from Andover. Their twelve year old son is with them. They drive a modern Chevrolet sedan.

One night, recently, there was a Dodge coupe drove into town from New Hampshire and at seven o'clock the next morning, Lionel Bartlett became the owner of same. Lionel says there is an airplane motor in it.

The writer regrets to learn that the situation at the old Oxford mill in Rumford, where he was so comfortably sheltered for nearly fourteen years, does not look so rosy as in former years, and it is said that its management are laying off help by the hundred. The reason in part is the installing of more modern machinery. Dropping help to a large extent from the Oxford not only means hard times for the help, but to Rumford and surrounding towns as well, for at all mills in the country operating to any great extent the old Oxford was right there with nothing less than five days per week and nearly two thousand employees got their checks. Never to skip a week.

P. V. Redding was at Rumford, recently, on his summer visit to cater to the public with all kinds of produce fresh from the country. Perce brought back a load of palatable cakes including ice cream and cake, groceries and so on, that brought his large Red speed wagon nearly to the skies. He said business is always bound to pick up around the Fourth. He also engaged several loads of green peas from Emerson Bartlett, to carry upon his next trip to Rumford, which was Thursday of last week on account of the Fourth coming on Friday.

Jerry Bartlett traded his Ford coupe and drove in with a Chevrolet four door sedan, which has made a mileage of twenty-one hundred miles only. Well, the family was giving this one the once over, and who should drive in but Irving Bartlett, who had just bought a handsome machine in a Plymouth coupe. These had been used carefully only two seasons.

All roads lead to the Summer baseball field, Sunday, June 29, which was the center of attraction and all streets leading to it were clogged with cars. The teams playing were Summer and Smith's Crossing, with the local winning by a good margin. Yes, P. V. Redding was there with his open air cafe, food, and agents business, waiting on those that were hungry and thirsty with smokes for a dessert.

Just a few days back the writer received a very friendly letter from an old friend, it was Varney Smith, one of the old Dixfield spool mill pioneers who came from Searsport. Varney saw the corn stone laid for the new mill, and also observed a prominent part in setting up all the machinery and worked there for a great many years. Varney, in this letter mentioned many items of memory around the good old town of Dixfield and the mill. And he also said that out of the forty-three that used to work in the mill, forty of them have passed on. Mr. Smith thanked the writer many times for him to read his article which he sent to the Norway Advertiser, "Dixfield Forty Years Ago".

Just as the writer was typing the last line of the above sentence, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Park drove in, and before he could reach the car the Judge had started conversation and Mr. and Mrs. Park were going to give him ninety days. But soon after shaking hands with two of Oxford County's most popular people, Albert changed the subject to the article on Dixfield Forty Years Ago, and both told him in a friendly way that seldom, if ever, they read in a newspaper anything that so deeply interested them as did that article. They both read it over and over. Mr. Park brought up several items mentioned in it, the old horsemen in their high wheeled sulkeys, Uncle Tyler Kender, the winter spectacle, the old schoolhouse, where the writer attended school under the management of both Mr. and Mrs. Park. Also the poker joint and so on. Both of them told him they look ahead for his writing in the Advertiser and read every word with great pleasure. Comments from people of such high standing in life, really encourage such young fellows as the writer to such an extent that he cannot fully express himself.

Jerry Bartlett took his mother and sisters, Grace and Gertrude, to the lake, Sunday afternoon, June 29, in his new car.

WEST BUCKFIELD

Guests at Harlow's—Mrs. Howe Goes to Chicago—Turners Arrived from California—Mrs. Winslow in Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Harlow entertained, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Frederick and son, Herbert, 4th, of Watertown, Mass., Mrs. Ann Miller, and Mrs. George Miller and daughters, Sallie and Marcia, of Portland, Mrs. Fred Hardy and son, Richard, of Portland, and Mrs. Abbie Harlow of New Sharon, Miss Fannie Harlow, Winthrop, Mass., A. S. Hall, Mary Hall, Thomas and Jack Martin of Quincy, Mass.

Miss Ruth Jones of Stevens' Mills is working for Mrs. L. I. Harlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bennett and two children of Woodford were at P. M. Bennett's, Thursday night and Friday.

Miss Fannie Harlow attends Bates summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bennett, Francis Bennett and Robert came up from Bath, Thursday night for the Fourth.

Charlie Cooper lost a horse by indigestion, last week.

Mrs. Harry Howe left Tuesday for Chicago, taking the bus at Lewiston.

Harold Churchill is at C. W. Cooper's.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Turner arrived at his mother's, Mrs. Hattie Turner's, from Los Angeles, Cal., the morning of the 4th. Paul has been in California three years.

Miss Mary Farrar is at Mrs. Hattie Turner's.

Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Harlow were in Lewiston, Saturday.

Mrs. Lorena Winslow was taken to the C. M. G. Hospital, Thursday for treatment. Mrs. Angie Robbins of Mechanic Falls has been caring for her.

Ernest Lovejoy is in the C. M. G. Hospital, where he was operated on for a bad case of appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Buck, Marguerite and Ormsby Buck, Mrs. S. M. Hammett and Mrs. H. H. Buck called on Mrs. S. G. and Mrs. Virgil Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Devenport and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Andrews in Sumner, Sunday afternoon.

KEZAR FALLS

Guests at Garner's—Attending Kiwanis Convention.

Rev. Arthur Callaghan went to Conway the first of last week, where the Northern District Convention of Presbyterians was in session.

Rev. and Mrs. Oymbred Hughes, accompanied by John Price and daughter, Jessie, from Liverpool, England, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Norcross.

John W. Garner is attending summer school at the Lowell Textile Institute.

Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Gaston and daughter, Natalie, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hall, of Cedar Grove, recently.

Thelma and Edwin Bradshaw, who have been taking an automobile trip through New York state, have returned home.

Margaret L. Chellis is taking a six weeks course at the summer school State University, Durham, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Garner, Ruth Evelyn and Allen Frank, were at Atlantic City, attending the International Convention of Kiwanis.

R. P. Wornwood of the Biddeford Journal is spending two months at the per week and nearly two thousand employees got their checks. Never to skip a week.

Monday evening, June 30, there was an inter-club gathering at Summit, Standish and Keble Falls Kiwanis Clubs at Proctor's Inn, Naples.

NORTH BRIDGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mowatt motored to his old home in Canada, Fourth of July week, returning Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Allen and family arrived for the family while Mr. and Mrs. Mowatt were away.

Mrs. Georgia Allen is working at the "Arcade" during the summer months.

On July 3rd, the body of Mrs. Walter Greene from Mexico City was brought here for burial in the North Bridgton cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crockett attended the Douglas reunion on June 29, at Sebago. Their daughter, Mrs. Blanche Lawson, and infant daughter, Norma, went with them.

Joseph Adams returned from the hospital, recently.

Nearly all the campers have arrived. Mr. Spooner's camp is soon to open for the season. The hotel at Wilbur's is nearly full.

Helen Carpenter is helping at the "Arcade".

Mrs. S. C. Ridlon has the orchestra boys this summer, as usual, to board. They are rooming at Mrs. Florence V. Holden's.

Mrs. Leonard Brill of Bridgton, with Leonard Jr., and baby Stanley, were all day guests at Mrs. Charles Allen's, recently.

Mrs. Myrtle Pendexter and daughter, Clifford, were callers at Mrs. Percy Howard's, recently.

Clifford Ridlon's pet dog, "Sonny," got run over and killed one day, recently. The 4-H Club enjoyed a picnic at Woodland, recently.

The 4-H Club, recently, their leader, Mrs. Iva Holden, and many of the parents went. All went by auto. A good time was reported.

Mrs. P. B. Howard and children spent the day with her daughter, Mrs. Myron Briggs, of Harrison, recently.

SOUTH RUMFORD

Mrs. Ralph Stone and little son, Ralph Edwin, of Rockland, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Harriet Abbott, and family for two weeks. They are all at their camp at Lake Webb most of the time, also Wallace Abbott and family. Mr. Abbott comes to his work for the Light Co. every day.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Curtis of Paris Hill were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wyman. Sunday they all went to Stawson Park in Farmington, and went through the zoo and later cooked their dinner by the roadside.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pre and daughter, Constance, of Dover, N. H., were week end guests of their brother, George Pre and family.

Mrs. Homer Frost and children, Virginia and Harold, of Skowhegan, are visiting her father, Mel Doyen, this week. Thelma Frost is with friends at Worthley Pond for a few days.

Mrs. Edie Virgin and children, Albert and Charles, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Nelson Carruthers and family for several weeks and are with Mr. and Mrs. Elias Jacobs at present, before going to Livermore for a visit.

Andrew Gram of Portland visited his niece, Mrs. George Pre, and family, over the holiday and week end.

EAST STONEHAM

Rev. Joel B. Hayden and family of Cleveland, O., are at their home on Lake Kewauyid, for the summer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Raynor and Mrs. Georgia McAllister have gone to Farrington's on Lake Kezar for their summer work.

Mrs. Solon McAllister, Mrs. Christie Nelson and Mrs. Raynor attended council meeting at Albany, Thursday afternoon and evening.

Ernest McAllister and daughters, June and Leah, attended the celebration at Bridgton, July 4th.

Miss Mimi Littlefield has returned from a weeks visit with her aunt in Auburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton McAllister visited friends in Berlin and Milan, N. H., last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilberger and daughter, Norma, of Norway, were in town over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards and daughters of Somerville, Mass., are at their summer home on the lake.

The electricians and painters, who are working on the new building at Virginia Lake, are boarding at F. R. McAllister's.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McAllister spent July 4th in Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Holden of South Paris are staying at Camp Wildwood.

LOVELL

Archie Lambert

Our townspeople were much shocked and grieved by the instant death of Archie Lambert in an automobile accident on Sunday afternoon, June 29.

Archie came to our town five years ago, with his brother, Arthur, who works for the Diamond Match people around their summer place. Archie was a fine musician, and good to work and always ready to lend a helping hand to any who needed his aid. For some time he made his home at Herbert Taylor's, but since Mrs. Taylor's death he has lived by himself near his brother's. For the past nine months he has made his home at Elmer Andrews' and worked a part of the time for Mr. Andrews and partly around the portable mill operating for Andrews & Andrews.

He leaves to mourn their loss an aged father and mother, several brothers, sisters, nephews and nieces, as well as innumerable friends who grieve for the untimely end of one so young, he was just 26 years and 3 months old, when the end came.

Bell Hill Services

Usual Popular Summer Services Being Held on the Hill

Community services will be held in the old Bell Hill meeting house, Otisfield, every Sunday through July and August. All regular morning services begin at 10:30 (eastern standard time) and conducted by Rev. Harry W. McIntire, with special music by a ladies' quartette.

Every Sunday afternoon special services will be held, beginning at 2:30, eastern standard time, except July 20th, when 3 o'clock is the time.

Speakers for the afternoon service and dates are as follows:

July 13—Rev. Rodney W. Roudy of Portland.

July 20—Rev. Howard O. Hough, Portland, Pastor of the First Radio Parish.

July 27—Rev. Marcus A. Brownson, D. D., Southern Pines, N. C. (Annual "Bell Hill Day").

Aug. 3—Frederick A. Pottle, Ph. D., Yale University.

Aug. 17—Rev. J. Marion Smith, Westmont, Quebec.

Aug. 24—Rev. Ferdinand F. Peterson, D. D., Portland.

Aug. 31—Rev. Arthur W. Swift, West Warwick, R. I.

Special music at these services. These meetings are open to all.

BOLSTERS MILLS

Stock Poisoned—Entertainment

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller of Orleans, Vt., with children, are stopping at Joseph Pulkkinen's on Haskell Hill.

Victor Salminen has recently lost five cows, including young stock, from poisoning in the pasture.

A number of young people in this vicinity attended the circus in Portland the night before the Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Frisbie and child of North Bridgton spent the Fourth with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lord.

A baked bean supper and entertainment has been planned for July 18th at Bolsters Mills Grange Hall, under the auspices of the Methodist church members, featuring "Deacon Robinson's Present".

AS NEAR AS THE TELEPHONE

Our service is always as near as the nearest telephone. Calls from outside towns receive the same prompt and careful attention as those from close at hand. Our complete modern motor equipment shortens the distance.

We make this announcement for the information of those who might desire the complete service that we are prepared to give, but hesitate to call us because they are not located in this town.

Our service knows no boundaries. Even in distant cities we have connections with leading funeral directors and can arrange for the same service that we give in this town.

DAVID H. GREENE

Funeral Director

HARRISON, MAINE

Telephone Mr. Greene 17-2 Telephone Mr. Hamlin 53-22

Refrigerators

Special Reduced Prices on

Refrigerators in Stock

JUNE 26 TO JULY 15

| Was | Reduced To |
|-----------------------------|------------|
| $33.50, Holds 100 lbs. Ice | $30.00 |
| $31.50, Holds 85 lbs. Ice | $28.00 |
| $26.25, Holds 65 lbs. Ice | $23.00 |

Raymond H. Eastman

Furniture Floor Covering Paints

Masonic Block Tel. 133-11 NORWAY, ME.

The Bathing Season Is Here!

WE HAVE SUITS FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

| | |
|--------------------------|------------------------|
| Men's Suits | $2.98 |
| Women's Suits | $2.98, $3.98, $4.50 |
| Children's Suits | $1.50, $1.89, $3.98 |
| Bathing Caps | 15c, 25c, 50c |
| Bathing Belts | 25c, 50c |
| Bathing Shoes | 79c |
| Ladies' Sun-Tan Suits | $4.50 |
| Children's Sun-Tan Suits | 59c, $1.25 |

NEW LINE OF RAYON UNDERWEAR AT LOWER PRICES

| | |
|---|------------------|
| Panties and Step-Ins, all colors, regular and outsizes, | |
| Great Bargains | 50c, 89c, $1.00 |
| Night Gowns | $1.00, $1.25 |
| Pongee Slips | $1.00 |

MORE COTTAGE CURTAINS, JUST IN

| | |
|---|--------------------|
| White Curtains, polka, ruffled edges, 7 piece set, unusual val. 98c | |
| Cretone | $1.50 pr. |
| Fringed Cretone Valancing | 59c yd. |
| Figured Valancing to match curtains | 29c yd. |
| Velvet and Rayon Valancing | 79c and $1.25 yd. |
| Fringes and Novelty Braids | |

N. D. Bolster Co.

SOUTH PARIS

DENMARK

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones from Massachusetts spent the week end of the Fourth with Mrs. Mae Ingalls.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pendexter have recently entertained relatives and friends from Massachusetts.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lee and family are visiting at her sister's, Mrs. Roy Leeman's.

Barbara True had a birthday party, Saturday, at her grandmother's, Mrs. L. H. Ingalls'. There were ten children present.

The Sunday morning sermon was "Changing the Emphasis of Religion About Christ to Religion of Christ".

"Open Mindfulness" was the topic for the evening. Next Sunday is to be family Sunday.

Joe Roman's orchestra from Pennsylvania and Portland are to play at the "Dine and Dance" at the I. O. O. F. Hall on Friday, July 18.

Mr. Cobb's camp and Camp Moosehead opened this week.

CRESCENT LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Garrett of Portland were at H. C. McAllister's, the 4th. Mrs. Ethel Brown and son of Auburn are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hall Edwards.

Mrs. Catherine Winslow is getting along as well as could be expected after her recent operation at the C. M. G. Hospital, Lewiston.

Mrs. George Sabine and three little boys of Bridgton have been guests the past week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Burgess.

Summer and Murray Strout, who are stopping at H. C. McAllister's, spent the holiday with their mother, Mrs. Persis Strout at her summer cottage at Panther Pond, Raymond.

Horace Strout and Miss Marie McAllister were at Raymond, Saturday.

Miss Julia Burgess is attending summer school at Gorham.

Just Received

Another lot of beautiful porch and house dresses, $1.69 each. Guaranteed washable. ALL SATS MARKED DOWN.

Hair Nets, 3 for 25c

H. M. TAYLOR

235 Main Street, NORWAY, ME.

NOTICE

R. C. BICKNELL

NORWAY, MAINE

Will continue the business of Ammunition and Explosives of the late W. A. Bicknell.

27-28

FOR SALE

Pasteurized Milk and Cream.

Pure Creamery Butter, salted to suit the trade. Supplying private families by parcel post a specialty.

Waterford Creamery Co.

South Waterford, Maine

HYDRAULIC LIFT

at the O. K. Clifford Garage, Park St., South Paris. Have your cars greased the safe and sane way.

27-28

Another Drop In

GOODYEAR TIRES

of 5 per cent. making them the lowest prices ever.

We will make you a liberal allowance for your used tires toward new ones.

More people ride on Goodyear Tires than any other kind.

O. K. Clifford Co.

Park Street, South Paris

27-28

We Have

MILL END PAINT

Following Colors: Red, Green, Drab, Yellow $2.00 Per Gallon

All Genuine PAINT

STOCK LIMITED

ENOUGH YELLOW TO PAINT A HOUSE

Wm. C. Leavitt Co.

Oil and Turpentine

Varnish and Brushes

Bass Moccasins

And Sport Welts

Durable, Serviceable, Ideal for Camping

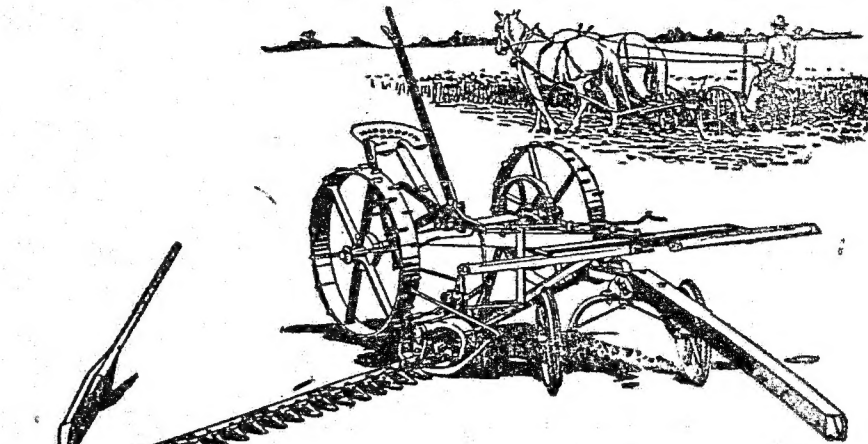

A lady from Aurora, N. Y., in ordering Bass Moccasins from a dealer in Brunswick writes: "I hope you can take care of this matter for me as I find the Bass wear so much better than any other shoes I can get."

The James Smith Shoe Store

W. MAFFORD MANN, Proprietor

178 Main Street, Norway

Handles Easier—Does Better Work

John Deere High-Lift Mower (Equipped with Tongue Truck)

If you want to do a better job of mowing this year and for many years to come, go into your fields with a John Deere High-Lift Mower equipped with the quick-turn tongue truck.

The quick-turn tongue truck saves the horses and results in better work. The flexibly-mounted axle permits truck wheels to hold to the ground. There is no neck weight on the horses, and whipping of pole is eliminated. The truck always keeps the front end of mower frame at the correct height.

The improved lift on the John Deere is surprisingly easy to operate. By only

We'll be glad to show you this improved mower.

Other advantages include balanced drive gears, which reduce wear and insure smooth running; special location of bevel pinion, which prevents end thrust; and 21-point clutch, which insures instant starting. All adjustments are made with ordinary tools.

Some of the farmers in this vicinity are busy doing their haying.

Harry McArthur spent the 4th of July at his home in Bath. Rev. Paul Walker of Oxford accompanied him.

Mrs. Nellie Frost, who has been seriously ill, is somewhat improved.

WALTERS & HAMBLIN CO.

Hardware and Paints

BRIDGTON, ME.

[At this Store You Get QUALITY AND SERVICE]

Afford one!

Why... our General Electric Refrigerator saves us money every day!

AFFORD one! Ask any friend who has bought one. General Electric Refrigerators actually save money. They run at a cost of a few cents a day. The efficiency of the Monitor Top, with its hermetically sealed mechanism, sees to that.

And your milk, meat, fruit and vegetables that would spoil in a temperature less

SILVER RADIO

NESTOR TAMMINEN

Evidence of popular approval of the principles and practices of this Bank is shown by increasing business. You decide wisely in making it your depository.

Paris Trust Company

SOUTH PARIS-BUCKFIELD

AT THE BLUE STORE
NORWAY

Clothing for YOUR VACATION

In the New Styles

| | | |
|----------------|---------------------|------------|
| Straw Hats | New Shirts and Ties | Linen Caps |
| | Interwoven Hose | |
| Linen Knickers | Polo Shirts | Golf Hose |

BIG SPECI

BIG SPECIAL
A Made-to-Measure Suit With Extra Trousers FREE

L. F. PIKE CO.

Auction Sale!

HARRISON, ME

(One Mile from Bolster's Mills)

Tuesday, July 22, 1930

At 9 o'clock, a. m., Standard Time

Schubert upright piano, mahogany music cabinet, oak dining set, several dining room tables, mission library table, davenport and two side chairs, book case and writing desk combined.

Two Wilton rugs, 9x12 and under pads, divan, chairs, iron beds, springs, wooden beds, mahogany tea wagon, feather mattress, feather beds, pillows, dishes, electric floor lamp and shade, several other electric lamps, violet ray lamp, electric fan, silverware, comforters, sheets, pillow cases, blankets, towels and table clothes, nice pictures and mirrors, lace curtains, linoleums, rugs, kitchenware, double barrel shot gun, revolver, small safe and many other good household effects.

FARMING TOOLS

Work wagon, dump cart, hay rack, sulky plow, walking plows, riding cultivator, disc harrow, spring tooth harrow, smoothing harrow, diamond tooth cultivator, whiffle trees, double harnesses, single riding harness, almost new single work harness, horse collars, knapsack duster and dusting powder, three wheel harrows, rakes, shovels, hoes, 2 full chests of carpenters tools, a chest of cobblers tools, 8 can cream tank and cans, 5 sitting room stoves, 2 pungs, sleighs, riding wagon, stone drag, grindstone, ladders, logging sleds and chains, ox yokes, oak planks and lumber, hen wire, windows, doors, egg cases and innumerable other articles. Some antiques.

Calvary Community Church Circle will serve lunch at noon.

SALE RAIN OR SHINE

Terms Cash

MRS. DANA M. STUART

FRANK BRYER, Auctioneer

Evidence of Popular Approval

Evidence of popular approval of the principles and practices of this Bank is shown by increasing business. You decide wisely in making it your depository.

Paris Trust Company

'SOUTH PARIS-BUCKFIELD'

AT THE UE STORE
NORWAY

Nothing for

FOR VACATION

| TENTZEN BATHING SUITS | |
|-----------------------|------------|
| In the New Styles | |
| New Shirts and Ties | Linen Caps |
| Interwoven Hose | Knit Hose |
| Dark Shirts | Knit Hose |

Polo Shirts

Golf Hose

BIG SPECIAL

Measure Suit With Extra Trousers FREE

4 DIME 40

F. PIKE CO.

Action Sale!

ENCE OF THE LATE DANA M. STUART
HARRISON, ME.
(One Mile from Bolster's Mills)

ay, July 22, 1930
At 9 o'clock, a. m., Standard Time

9x12 and under pads, divan, chairs, iron beds, springs, tea wagon, feather mattress, feather beds, pillows, lamp and shade, several other electric lamps, violet ray verware, comforters, sheets, pillow cases, blankets, towels, pictures and mirrors, lace curtains, linoleums, rugs, barrel shot gun, revolver, small safe and many other good ap cart, hay rack, sulky plow, walking plows, riding cul-spring tooth harrow, smoothing harrow, diamond tooth s, double harnesses, single riding harness, almost new, orse collars, knapsack duster and dusting powder, three shovels, hoes, 2 full chests of carpenters tools, a chest cream tank and cans, 5 sitting room stoves, 2 pungs, stone drag, grindstone, ladders, logging sleds and chains, and lumber, hen wire, windows, doors, egg cases and incles. Some antiques.

SALE RAIN OR SHINE
Terms Cash
RS. DANA M. STUART

uctioneer

Story of the Silver Ball by One Who Played Short Stop for Every Game

Silas H. Burnham, Lincoln, Nebraska

The following story is written by the only surviving member, S. H. Burnham, Chairman of the Board of the First Trust Company of Lincoln, Nebraska, note.

The history of the Old Pennesseewassee Baseball Club of Norway, Maine, has been written several times, but always with errors, more or less, which have not been corrected. Mr. Burnham, who is the only member living at the present time and who played short stop in every game of the Pennesseewassee ever played.

Baseball enthusiasm was just getting started in Maine in 1867, sixty-three years ago. The ball game previous to that was "four old cat" played with a different ball from the hard baseball. When the latter was made his ball was "goat" ("goat") as it was called in those days, in order to get him out, he had to be "banged" out when he ran for the next "goat".

There was great fun in playing round ball or "four old cat". We used to make our own ball with rubber inside, wound with yarn and covered with leather. But in 1867 baseball took the place of the old game and there was much excitement in the town, all through New England. In 1867 a baseball association was organized in Maine with all the large cities and villages becoming members, and to start it off a tournament was held in Portland, that being the largest city in the state.

Ten or twelve clubs in the association participated in the tournament, which lasted six days. There were two clubs in Portland, one called the Buns and the other the Athletics; one in Lewiston and one in Bowdoin College, one in Bangor, and the others in the next largest cities or villages.

At the end of the tournament it was found that the Buns of Portland had won and were awarded the silver ball, which was the trophy played for, and was of solid silver, costing about $100. Under the rules the winning team of the tournament was obliged to play any challenging team one more game during the season, but only one, and the defeated team could not play again until the next season unless the winning team was defeated, in which event every team had the right to challenge and the holders must play them within two weeks or surrender the silver ball.

The Buns were successful in defeating all who dared to challenge during that season after the tournament had ended and held the ball throughout the season. They had it on exhibition in the principal show windows in Portland throughout the winter, where it attracted much attention.

On the opening of the following season, May 1, 1868, the Buns still continued to defeat any who dared to tackle them. Under the rules the team challenged could not start until two weeks after the challenge, and they always took advantage of that rule.

In 1867 when the association was formed and the Buns held the silver ball, the Pennesseewassee took no part, not even joining the organization.

The Pennesseewassee were a club away up in Oxford County in a village of two thousand, in Norway, Maine, and took the name of Pennesseewassee from a beautiful lake at the head of the village, seven miles long and one and a half miles wide, and while they had played at the county fairs and with the different schools in the surrounding villages, they had not joined the organization. A very remarkable thing about them was that the first place they made up of five farmer boys and four village boys, and of course they could not be expected to compete with the large city teams. They had no club house, but used to meet up over House Hawkins' cobble shop on the third floor, rented by Clara Smith and Jimmie Danforth and called Cobble's Hall. However, the following year, 1868, they joined the association and made up their minds to go after that silver ball. They figured they could get the last game of the season.

The Buns were going strong and were likely to defeat any remaining team that was entitled to a game, in which event they would be obliged to accept a challenge from the Pennesseewassee sent in just two weeks before the season closed. On the other hand, if by chance they were defeated and the silver ball changed hands, it would subject the holding club to meet a challenge from every club in the association.

The season was drawing to a close, there would be only two more games. Bowdoin College challenged and by putting them off two weeks, there were only two weeks left, or a chance for one more game, so that in event the Buns won they would be obliged to accept our challenge, and in case the Buns lost, every club could challenge them. The last game, and they (the new victors) could take their choice as to which one they would play, so it is plain to see that naturally we, the Pennies, would have a cinch for the last game, for they would pick the weakest team, which naturally would be the farmers from Oxford County, who never had played a game, and being off to play away from home would be frightened and would be easy prey.

The Bowdoin College Club, of course, was obliged to go to Portland for the game and the Pennesseewassee were right there to watch that game with a challenge in their pockets all ready for the evening paper, with a blank space for the name of the winners to be inserted.

Well, much to everybody's surprise, Bowdoin College won and there were eleven challenges in the next issue of the paper, the Pennesseewassee, of course, being one of them.

The Bowdoin boys carried the silver ball home and amidst great excitement a faculty meeting was held and the silver ball enclosed in a beautiful silk and velvet case, was displayed with the whole college in attendance.

The captain made a speech, stating, "We met the mighty Portland Buns and here is this beautiful silver trophy." He added further, "We are challenged by eleven clubs, but we have only two weeks in which to play a game before the season will close, so, as the eleven challenges came out in the same issue of the Portland Press, we have our choice in deciding which one to accept."

"Why," said the college president, "There is no question which one to accept. Who ever heard of the Pennesseewassee of the Pennie Savhorees or the Pennie Warhorees, or whatever they are called? I never heard of them. They played in the tournament with any association club. What could they do if they met a real team?"

There was no chance for an argument, but there was rather a sorry look on the farmers from Oxford County, so our challenge was accepted without delay and the date set two weeks off.

Now don't think of a moment that the Pennesseewassee lost any time during those two weeks away from the ball field.

The game was to be at one o'clock, Saturday at Brunswick, where Bowdoin College is located.

The Pennesseewassee left Norway in different ways. Summer Burnham, our farmer captain, and catcher, left Thursday by train, stopping over night at Minot to visit an old sweetheart. Silas Burnham, our farmer short-stop, and Gene Fuller, our farmer pitcher, left Friday morning by catching Fuller's old black mare out of the pasture and hitching her to a two-wheeled chaise, which Silas had borrowed from Isaac Denison, the leading merchant in Norway. Cyrus Tucker and Clarence Smith, both farmers, left and center fielders, left by Tucker's one-horse-and-buggy outfit.

These four from non-day lunches and our baiting the horses, started about sunrise on Friday on the forty mile trip to Bowdoin, stopping about half way for their lunch and to feed the horses, during which time we folded and caught flies, reaching Brunswick at about five o'clock in the afternoon, where we found the other members, who had drifted in by various ways and means; Ike Morrill, our farmer first baseman, Marton Bartlett (village boy), our second baseman, Jimmie Danforth (village boy), third baseman, and Clint Young, our farmer right fielder.

When the latter made his ball was "goat" ("goat") as it was called in those days, in order to get him out, he had to be "banged" out when he ran for the next "goat".

There was great fun in playing round ball or "four old cat". We used to make our own ball with rubber inside, wound with yarn and covered with leather. But in 1867 baseball took the place of the old game and there was much excitement in the town, all through New England. In 1867 a baseball association was organized in Maine with all the large cities and villages becoming members, and to start it off a tournament was held in Portland, that being the largest city in the state.

Ten or twelve clubs in the association participated in the tournament, which lasted six days. There were two clubs in Portland, one called the Buns and the other the Athletics; one in Lewiston and one in Bowdoin College, one in Bangor, and the others in the next largest cities or villages.

At the end of the tournament it was found that the Buns of Portland had won and were awarded the silver ball, which was the trophy played for, and was of solid silver, costing about $100.

Under the rules the winning team of the tournament was obliged to play any challenging team one more game during the season, but only one, and the defeated team could not play again until the next season unless the winning team was defeated, in which event every team had the right to challenge and the holders must play them within two weeks or surrender the silver ball.

The Buns were successful in defeating all who dared to challenge during that season after the tournament had ended and held the ball throughout the season. They had it on exhibition in the principal show windows in Portland throughout the winter, where it attracted much attention.

On the opening of the following season, May 1, 1868, the Buns still continued to defeat any who dared to tackle them. Under the rules the team challenged could not start until two weeks after the challenge, and they always took advantage of that rule.

In 1867 when the association was formed and the Buns held the silver ball, the Pennesseewassee took no part, not even joining the organization.

The Pennesseewassee were a club away up in Oxford County in a village of two thousand, in Norway, Maine, and took the name of Pennesseewassee from a beautiful lake at the head of the village, seven miles long and one and a half miles wide, and while they had played at the county fairs and with the different schools in the surrounding villages, they had not joined the organization.

A very remarkable thing about them was that the first place they made up of five farmer boys and four village boys, and of course they could not be expected to compete with the large city teams. They had no club house, but used to meet up over House Hawkins' cobble shop on the third floor, rented by Clara Smith and Jimmie Danforth and called Cobble's Hall. However, the following year, 1868, they joined the association and made up their minds to go after that silver ball. They figured they could get the last game of the season.

The Buns were going strong and were likely to defeat any remaining team that was entitled to a game, in which event they would be obliged to accept a challenge from the Pennesseewassee sent in just two weeks before the season closed. On the other hand, if by chance they were defeated and the silver ball changed hands, it would subject the holding club to meet a challenge from every club in the association.

The season was drawing to a close, there would be only two more games. Bowdoin College challenged and by putting them off two weeks, there were only two weeks left, or a chance for one more game, so that in event the Buns won they would be obliged to accept our challenge, and in case the Buns lost, every club could challenge them. The last game, and they (the new victors) could take their choice as to which one they would play, so it is plain to see that naturally we, the Pennies, would have a cinch for the last game, for they would pick the weakest team, which naturally would be the farmers from Oxford County, who never had played a game, and being off to play away from home would be frightened and would be easy prey.

The Bowdoin College Club, of course, was obliged to go to Portland for the game and the Pennesseewassee were right there to watch that game with a challenge in their pockets all ready for the evening paper, with a blank space for the name of the winners to be inserted.

Well, much to everybody's surprise, Bowdoin College won and there were eleven challenges in the next issue of the paper, the Pennesseewassee, of course, being one of them.

The Bowdoin boys carried the silver ball home and amidst great excitement a faculty meeting was held and the silver ball enclosed in a beautiful silk and velvet case, was displayed with the whole college in attendance.

The captain made a speech, stating, "We met the mighty Portland Buns and here is this beautiful silver trophy." He added further, "We are challenged by eleven clubs, but we have only two weeks in which to play a game before the season will close, so, as the eleven challenges came out in the same issue of the Portland Press, we have our choice in deciding which one to accept."

"Why," said the college president, "There is no question which one to accept. Who ever heard of the Pennesseewassee of the Pennie Savhorees or the Pennie Warhorees, or whatever they are called? I never heard of them. They played in the tournament with any association club. What could they do if they met a real team?"

There was no chance for an argument, but there was rather a sorry look on the farmers from Oxford County, so our challenge was accepted without delay and the date set two weeks off.

Now don't think of a moment that the Pennesseewassee lost any time during those two weeks away from the ball field.

The game was to be at one o'clock, Saturday at Brunswick, where Bowdoin College is located.

The Pennesseewassee left Norway in different ways. Summer Burnham, our farmer captain, and catcher, left Thursday by train, stopping over night at Minot to visit an old sweetheart. Silas Burnham, our farmer short-stop, and Gene Fuller, our farmer pitcher, left Friday morning by catching Fuller's old black mare out of the pasture and hitching her to a two-wheeled chaise, which Silas had borrowed from Isaac Denison, the leading merchant in Norway. Cyrus Tucker and Clarence Smith, both farmers, left and center fielders, left by Tucker's one-horse-and-buggy outfit.

These four from non-day lunches and our baiting the horses, started about sunrise on Friday on the forty mile trip to Bowdoin, stopping about half way for their lunch and to feed the horses, during which time we folded and caught flies, reaching Brunswick at about five o'clock in the afternoon, where we found the other members, who had drifted in by various ways and means; Ike Morrill, our farmer first baseman, Marton Bartlett (village boy), our second baseman, Jimmie Danforth (village boy), third baseman, and Clint Young, our farmer right fielder.

When the latter made his ball was "goat" ("goat") as it was called in those days, in order to get him out, he had to be "banged" out when he ran for the next "goat".

There was great fun in playing round ball or "four old cat". We used to make our own ball with rubber inside, wound with yarn and covered with leather. But in 1867 baseball took the place of the old game and there was much excitement in the town, all through New England. In 1867 a baseball association was organized in Maine with all the large cities and villages becoming members, and to start it off a tournament was held in Portland, that being the largest city in the state.

Ten or twelve clubs in the association participated in the tournament, which lasted six days. There were two clubs in Portland, one called the Buns and the other the Athletics; one in Lewiston and one in Bowdoin College, one in Bangor, and the others in the next largest cities or villages.

At the end of the tournament it was found that the Buns of Portland had won and were awarded the silver ball, which was the trophy played for, and was of solid silver, costing about $100.

Under the rules the winning team of the tournament was obliged to play any challenging team one more game during the season, but only one, and the defeated team could not play again until the next season unless the winning team was defeated, in which event every team had the right to challenge and the holders must play them within two weeks or surrender the silver ball.

THE NORWAY (OXFORD COUNTY, ME.) ADVERTISER. FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1930.

NORTH WATERFORD

Mrs. Hutchinson Dead—Circle Program—Guests at Brandon's—Improvements at Five Kezars.

Supper guests, recently, of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ray were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Rice and Donald Rice, and Mr. and Mrs. Weston Woodbury of Bangor, N. Y. Mrs. Best, State Nurse, is also stopping there for a week.

Mrs. Lucy Hutchinson's death, Friday night, after an illness of about an hour, was a great shock to her many friends as she had seemed as well as usual and took a walk with her little granddaughter that day. She lived in the family with her only daughter, Mrs. Willis McKee. Her other daughter, Mrs. Harry Brown, died several years ago. Funeral held at the home, Monday at 2 p. m., Rev. W. I. Ball officiated. She left one brother, John Carter, and three grandchildren, Winfield and Lawrence Brown and Ava McKee, besides other distant relatives and a host of friends to mourn her loss. The profession of flowers spoke of her high esteem. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery beside her husband, who passed away several years ago.

The council meeting was held at Albany, Thursday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hersey took Miss E. B. Hamlin, Marilla Marston and Annie Hazelton to the annual meeting of the Maine Association of Women's Clubs at Bangor, Maine. Josephine Sanderson is working at Bethel a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. Bull are visited by a party of guests from Keegan, N. H. Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Hazelton, Marilla Marston, Maude Allen and M. J. Cunningham took a trip to Chatham, N. H., Saturday, and had a picnic lunch by the lake house.

Three was a large attendance at the Circle, Tuesday night, entertained by Annie Hazelton, Leola Elliott and Edith Littlefield. A good program as follows was given:

Singing: "The Morning Calm," Annie Hazelton, Josephine Sanderson, Leola Elliott, Edith Littlefield, and Marilla Marston. Vocal Solo, encore: "The Silent Band," Rev. W. I. Ball. Vocal Solo, encore: "The Silent Band," Rev. W. I. Ball. Remarks: "The Silent Band," Rev. W. I. Ball. There will be another Circle in two weeks.

Guests of Rev. and Mrs. Brandon a part of last week were Helen Hutchinson, Defiance, O., Myrtle Brown, Hamlet, O., Ruth Cutler, Mark Center, O., and Kennell, Bryan, O. They came in their car by the way of Detroit and Canada, visiting points of interest on the trip and returned by the way of Washington and southern route home.

Mrs. Gertrude L. Berry and sister, Miss Myrtle Fairbanks of North Monmouth were guests of their aunt, Mrs. Lill Lawrence Wood went to Concord, N. H., and brought his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Love, home with him for a visit. His cousin also came with them. Lawrence Worcester from Boston, Mass., is spending his vacation at his uncle's, Geo. Hobson's, where his mother is still visiting.

When discovered their trick to challenge us in laying time with their own combination, we went to the Ursula Majors and the Ulysians, two old professional players who were here for the purpose of playing for the fun of it on Saturdays with a banquet at night with plenty of the good old-fashioned "oh be joyful", and told them the situation, and that the following day we must join the association and challenge us.

We sent in their applications with the usual fee of $15, and the Portland members not realizing that these were old pro clubs, voted them in and pocketed the $30 and the next day the Pennesseewassee received two challenges, one from the Ursula Majors and one from the Ulysians, and the following day we were out from the Buns. We could put each team off two weeks, which would carry us through the haying season.

So much for the farmer boys from Oxford County and the mighty trick the smart boys from the city attempted.

The challenge from the Buns and Athletics combined must be met the first week in August, which would give us seven times. This seemed to take the heart out of the college boys and we had no further trouble, closing the ninth inning with the score standing—Pennesseewassee 28, Bowdoin 1.

Another interesting and lucky break occurred in our favor. A long hit was made by one of the Bowdoin boys high over the second base toward Co. Fur, the center fielder. He was being the sun and it was difficult to judge the ball. The result was it never touched his hands, but struck him on the head and carried over the fence, and he was running at top speed in that direction and he just barely reached near enough to catch the ball in his left hand.

Well, the game being closed and the silver ball in the silk velvet case being in our possession, we all started for the train, never stopping for Fuller's old black mare or Denison's two-wheel chaise.

A telegram had been sent to General Beals by—Knight, the expressman between Norway and Portland, who stopped off on his return from Portland to see the game, that the Pennesseewassee were on the night train with the silver ball. (I might say right here that while there was great interest and enthusiasm in Norway they did not think it possible for us to win and not a single person except Knight had the courage to go to Brunswick.) On receipt of the telegram General Beals organized and the whole village met us at the depot, carrying us on their shoulders and helped us to the hotel, where a fine banquet had been prepared.

Well, the season was closed, the silver ball was ours. We could hold it through the winter. Some old coddler, looking at it where it was on display in Ho. Cole's jewelry window in the old Noyes block on Main Street, remarked, "Well, I'm snummy, boys, that the darndest prettiest thing I ever see. I wish you could keep it, but of course next spring those city daddies will take it."

Under the baseball articles the season was from May first to October, so we figured that we would not have to play before the 14th of May, as we could stand off a challenge two weeks, but twelve days had elapsed before the season closed and while we never dreamed that it could be held that those twelve days should be counted as a part of the two weeks in the opening of the next season, it was so voted at a meeting of the association held in Portland during the winter, so the Androscoogins of Lewiston having challenged two weeks before the season closed the previous fall, it was voted that we must defend the ball on or before the second day of May. This was taking an unfair and unreasonable advantage.

The spring season was late and snow drifts covered a portion of our diamond up to very near the first of May, so much so that we had to shovel the snow about in order for it to melt from in front of the catcher's line.

We regarded the Androscoogins club one of the strongest, if not the very strongest in the association, but while they had beaten us at a friendly game the previous season, we had strengthened the Pennesseewassee by adding Ellis Hersey and Gus Crocker from Bangor to our team. Hersey was a left-handed pitcher and Crocker a good catcher, giving us two pitchers and two catchers.

Our old fielder, Fuller, went on and pitch for Captain Burnham to catch, and Hersey, the left-handed pitcher would go in the box for Crocker to catch, and while they might beat us, they would discover they had all gone on their hands before they got through.

Well, to make long story short, the game ended with the score, Pennesseewassee 23, Androscoogins 21.

The next game in two weeks we met the Crescents from Bangor and with our any trouble took them in with a score, Pennesseewassee 25, Crescents 5.

Two weeks later we wiped up the ground with the Ursula Majors with 102 to 4.

So much for the farmer boys from Oxford County and the mighty trick the smart boys from the city attempted.

The challenge from the Buns and Athletics combined must be met the first week in August, which would give us seven times. This seemed to take the heart out of the college boys and we had no further trouble, closing the ninth inning with the score standing—Pennesseewassee 28, Bowdoin 1.

Another interesting and lucky break occurred in our favor. A long hit was made by one of the Bowdoin boys high over the second base toward Co. Fur, the center fielder. He was being the sun and it was difficult to judge the ball. The result was it never touched his hands, but struck him on the head and carried over the fence, and he was running at top speed in that direction and he just barely reached near enough to catch the ball in his left hand.

Well, the game being closed and the silver ball in the silk velvet case being in our possession, we all started for the train, never stopping for Fuller's old black mare or Denison's two-wheel chaise.

A telegram had been sent to General Beals by—Knight, the expressman between Norway and Portland, who stopped off on his return from Portland to see the game, that the Pennesseewassee were on the night train with the silver ball. (I might say right here that while there was great interest and enthusiasm in Norway they did not think it possible for us to win and not a single person except Knight had the courage to go to Brunswick.) On receipt of the telegram General Beals organized and the whole village met us at the depot, carrying us on their shoulders and helped us to the hotel, where a fine banquet had been prepared.

Well, the season was closed, the silver ball was ours. We could hold it through the winter. Some old coddler, looking at it where it was on display in Ho. Cole's jewelry window in the old Noyes block on Main Street, remarked, "Well, I'm snummy, boys, that the darndest prettiest thing I ever see. I wish you could keep it, but of course next spring those city daddies will take it."

Under the baseball articles the season was from May first to October, so we figured that we would not have to play before the 14th of May, as we could stand off a challenge two weeks, but twelve days had elapsed before the season closed and while we never dreamed that it could be held that those twelve days should be counted as a part of the two weeks in the opening of the next season, it was so voted at a meeting of the association held in Portland during the winter, so the Androscoogins of Lewiston having challenged two weeks before the season closed the previous fall, it was voted that we must defend the ball on or before the second day of May. This was taking an unfair and unreasonable advantage.

Maude Allen and M. J. Cunningham visited at her mother's, Annie Hazelton's from Friday until Sunday afternoon. Mr. Cosgrove from Lewiston brought them and came Sunday to take them back. Della Goveall of Auburn also came and all were dinner guests.

Fred Hersey, Harry Brown, Will Ray and Geo. Burdett are doing a great business at the Five Kezars clearing the shores of bushes, ploughing and making a fine beach. It is a beautiful place for cottages and they have made a good auto road to it.

Mrs. Will Ray has three men boarders that are putting in a portable mill on Charles Saunders' place.

Sadie Rowe transports the children from Disbectown to Sunday school, here.

EAST STONEHAM

A child health conference for school and preschool children will be held at the church vestry, East Stoneham, Thursday July 17, starting at nine o'clock, standard time. This conference is for all the children in Stoneham. It is very important that all the children are present for examination on this day, and they are urged to come as early as possible. Blue Ribbon Malt Extract, 1 lb. can 50c. Moxie, 2 large bottles, contents .25c. Matches, 6 large boxes .13c. Ammonia, small bottle .18c. Ivory Soap, 2 1/2 lb. bars 21c. Royal Fruit Gelatine .33c. 17c. Prize Bread .75c. 7c. loaf. Rolls .9c. doz.

Other Specials not Listed: Milk and Cream from the Lone Pine Farm, Norway, Fresh daily guaranteed. CLIFFORD H. DAVIS, Mgr.

Daylight Saving Time

REX Theatre

NORWAY

Monday, July 14

Clara Bow

"True to the Navy"

TUESDAY

Douglass Fairbanks, Jr.

"Fast Life"

WEDNESDAY

Richard Barthelmess

"Son of the Gods"

THURSDAY

With Byrd at the South Pole

These pictures taken on Byrd's last Expedition.

FRIDAY

Nancy Carroll

"The Devil's Holiday"

SATURDAY

"In the Next Room"

with Jack Mulhall

Matinee EVERY Afternoon

The Coolest Place in Town

These pictures taken on Byrd's last Expedition.

FRIDAY

Nancy Carroll

"The Devil's Holiday"

SATURDAY

"In the Next Room"

with Jack Mulhall

Matinee EVERY Afternoon

The Coolest Place in Town

These pictures taken on Byrd's last Expedition.

FRIDAY

Nancy Carroll

"The Devil's Holiday"

SATURDAY

"In the Next Room"

with Jack Mulhall

Matinee EVERY Afternoon

The Coolest Place in Town

These pictures taken on Byrd's last Expedition.

FRIDAY

Nancy Carroll

"The Devil's Holiday"

SATURDAY

"In the Next Room"

with Jack Mulhall

Harvest Your Hay Crop Quickly!

K. & W. Hay Harvesting Tools do a wonderful job; whether on a one or one hundred acre farm.

FORDSON and HORSE MOWERS
HORSE and HAND RAKES
MODERN HAY LOADERS

Know just what we have to offer. Know our low prices. If you cannot call at our store, write for catalogue.

FARM, DAIRY and POULTRY SUPPLIES - SEEDS
KENDALL & WHITNEY
FEDERAL and TEMPLE STS., PORTLAND, MAINE

South Paris Association Hall

MONDAY JULY 14TH

Ethel May Shorey

And Her Company of Players in the Comedy Drama

"The Frame Up"

Vaudeville Between Acts With Our Snappy Orchestra

Reserved Seats 50c, Now On Sale